City Sets Record In Keeping Down Fire Losses

SEVENTEEN COMMITTEES COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS FOR PRESBYTERIAN MEET

More Than 1000 Delegates Will Be Present at Synod; Local Church Workers Prepare to Give Visitors Hearty Welcome

There will be seventeen committees to look after the arrangements for the annual Presbyterian synod to be held at the Glendale Presbyterian church, June 24 to 31 inclusive, when more than 1000 delegates from California, Arizona and Nevada will attend, according to an announcement today by Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the church and general chairman of the meeting.

Assisting the heads of these various committees will be a number of members of the Glendale Presbyterian church as well as members of other churches in the city. In some committees there will be as many as fifty committee members, so large is the task outlined to make the synod a success.

Important Duties
Dr. D. R. Boyd, R. P. Isitt and Mrs. M. H. Terry head the committees on reception and hospitality. This committee numbers over fifty, selected from various churches and organizations of the city, and is considered one of the most important committees in charge of pre-convention plans.

W. J. Clendenin, John Horsch and G. D. McDill are at the head of the committee on automobiles and hotels. This committee will also look after the housing of the delegates and at present is busy securing sufficient rooms to care for the delegates.

Louise M. Guenther and her committee will be in charge of the registration of delegates. An elaborate system of registration is being worked out by the committee, which will enable delegates to get in touch with persons from other churches who are attending the synod.

Young Men to Aid
David Black and W. G. Boyd will have charge of the ushers and Rex C. Kelley, H. B. White and Paul Edmonds will look after the pages. Young men of the Sunday school classes of the church, and many from other churches, will act as ushers and pages during the week the synod is in session.

The finance and auditing committee will be headed by W. E. McCormick and W. H. Barnes. A. L. Baird and J. A. Newton will have charge of the committee which will keep in close touch with outside organizations and promote a spirit of co-operation throughout the city.

It is proposed to advocate the building of a truck highway, west of and paralleling the Southern Pacific's right of way, to relieve San Fernando boulevard of the load it is now carrying. Also, it will give to a large acreage of already developed industrial sites an artery for motor travel without interruption by rail traffic.

Start at Burbank
It is planned to have the valley terminus of the highway at Flower street in Burbank and continue along the Los Angeles river bed into the east side industrial district of the metropolis. From Flower street the traffic would radiate to all the vast acreage suitable for industry in Burbank's vicinity, it is pointed out, while in Los Angeles the terminus would give access to practically all of the plants and railroads allied to successful production.

Actually, the truck highway would take off San Fernando road at Turkey crossing the heaviest share of slow traffic and free San Fernando road of its greatest drawback, in the opinion of Mr. Pomeroy.

Surface of Cement
It will be necessary to build this road of cement because of the fact that in flood times it is bound to be inundated along the Los Angeles river bed south of Glendale. Also, it will involve a subway under several existing highways in order not to interfere with their fast-moving traffic, he believes.

This is the major project of interest to Glendale at the present time before the planning commission, although many others will indirectly benefit that city.

Toland Death Verdict Blames Faulty Bell
LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Mrs. Bert Toland of Glendale came to her death "by a fracture of the skull caused by stepping off or jumping off of a Pacific Electric car while in motion and we believe that if the bell system had been in working order and the motorman received the bell to stop at Atwater this accident would not have happened."

That is the coroner's jury verdict in the case after hearing the evidence at the inquest held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Toland was found unconscious along the Pacific Electric tracks near Glendale boulevard early Thursday morning and was removed to the Receiving hospital in Los Angeles by J. W. Gould. She died a few hours later.

Woolwine's Condition Is Greatly Improved
PARIS, July 19.—Thomas Lee Woolwine, former district attorney of Los Angeles, who was stricken a week ago with an attack of internal hemorrhages, today was reported greatly improved. His physicians said they believed he is now out of danger.

EXECUTIVE RAPS FAKE FIRE STORIES
Governor Denies Menace to State Forests From Flame and Drought
SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Governor Richardson today issued a statement denying that the forest fire situation in California is serious and that a drought exists.

"The state forester reports that the few fires in California are in national forest reserves," the statement said. "The state is not burning up even if certain sensational news agencies are trying to set it on fire with red ink. On my trip over the Ridge road between Los Angeles and Bakersfield, I looked for the forest fires that the lurid red news agencies were spreading. I looked for any menace to the highway as published. I saw no fires. There is none on the Ridge road. I saw one small smoke in the brush a few miles north of the road. The road is still intact. In fact, it is built of cement and concrete and is impervious even to sensational journalism."

"I saw the fire on Signal Hill before leaving Long Beach. It was not the great menace the yellows said it was. I saw it. The flames were not ten feet high and only an old stump hole burned. It was a small matter and attracted little attention. I have many reports of fake fire stories. In fact, it seems to me that certain parties are deliberately trying to injure California with these fake stories. I know the people are too wise to be misled by fakers."

"The national and state departments of forestry are doing good work and I have full faith in their ability to check the forest fires. The state is lending every aid in men and money. There is no occasion for hysteria. California is not dried up. On my trip from Sacramento to San Diego, covering several counties, I noted that the country looked greener than usual at this time of the year and the crops are better than in many years. California farmers will have a good year."

Census Bureau Announces Population Of Some Cities

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A revised and completed list of population estimates for a limited number of cities, made in connection with a department of commerce health survey, was made public today by the bureau of the census. The estimates are subject to correction, since they make no provision for area changes since July 1, 1923.

The population of New York was computed at 6,015,504. Chicago's was put at 2,939,605. Detroit was omitted. It was ranked the fourth city in the 1920 census. Cleveland, the fifth city, had 912,502. St. Louis, Mo., was credited with 812,698. Baltimore, Md., was given 784,938. Boston stood at 776,783. Pittsburgh, Pa., 615,915. San Francisco had 504,284, with Oakland, across San Francisco bay, having 246,893. Washington, D. C., was estimated at 486,936. Los Angeles, Cal., was not mentioned in the announcement. Other cities in the list and their estimated populations are: Des Moines, 145,053; Omaha, 208,025; Portland, Ore., 278,002; Salt Lake City, Utah, 128,564.

PLAN TRUCK EX-OFFICIAL ROUTE IN VALLEY COMMITS SUICIDE

Highway to Tap Industrial Area of Interest to City of Glendale
Former City Treasurer of Lincoln, Neb., Leaps to Death From Hotel

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Preliminary surveys are being made by the Regional Planning commission, according to Secretary Hugh Pomeroy, with a view to giving the Glendale-Burbank industrial area along the Southern Pacific main coast lines a backbone of highway.

It is proposed to advocate the building of a truck highway, west of and paralleling the Southern Pacific's right of way, to relieve San Fernando boulevard of the load it is now carrying. Also, it will give to a large acreage of already developed industrial sites an artery for motor travel without interruption by rail traffic.

TOTAL OF 268 ALARMS IN YEAR, ESTIMATE PROPERTY DAMAGE IS ABOUT $23,000

Chief Lankford and His Men Receive Praise For Work; Department Keeps in Trim With Daily Practice For Any Emergency

With 268 alarms turned in during the fiscal year ending June 30, there was sustained in the entire city of Glendale a fire loss of but $22,639, according to figures in the office of A. H. Lankford, chief of the department, whose headquarters are at 311 East Broadway.

This record is exceeded only by that made by the local firemen the year before, when Glendale had the second lowest per capita fire loss in the United States, the loss being 26 cents per capita. Similar figures for the present year are not yet available, Chief Lankford states.

The only city in the country leading Glendale in 1923 was Allentown, Pa., with a loss of 14 cents per capita. Directly following Glendale, in third place, was Lakewood, Ohio, with a loss of 38 cents per capita. Chicago, Ill., had a rate of $28.95 per capita for the same period.

Force On Guard Night and Day
These figures summarize the work being done by Chief Lankford and his eight captains, twelve drivers and twenty-eight hosemen, who comprise the organization of forty-nine trained men protecting this city day and night, twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year, from the ever-present menace of fire.

When it is realized, say city officials, that the department is lacking in personnel and equipment, as shown in the recommendation by the Citizens' Bond committee for a $60,000 bond issue to cover these needs, credit is reflected on Chief Lankford for his ability to efficiently operate the department under existing handicaps.

Figures Picture Work of Five Years
The following figures give a comprehensive picture of the work done by the Glendale fire department during the past five years:

Fiscal Year	Population	Alarms	Feet of hose laid	Property risk	Loss	Per capita loss
1920	13,532	88	21,700	$ 113,435	$24,425	$1.80
1921	25,720	107	23,150	385,940	8,210	.32
1922	32,500	131	30,800	855,075	6,435	.19
1923	42,000	229	36,700	617,775	13,035	.26
1924	50,000	268	30,850	1,003,400	22,639	.45

Many deductions can be made from these figures. Among those pointed out by Chief Lankford is that with an increase of population from 42,000 in 1923 to 50,000 in 1924, the feet of hose laid was cut from 36,700 feet in the former to 30,850 in the latter year. This was accomplished largely by an increase in the use of chemicals and by the operations of the fire prevention bureau.

May, June and July Are Fire Months
The bureau in the fiscal year just closed made 2640 inspections, Chief Lankford states, in which 218 cases of violations of city ordinances were found and 239 fire hazards revealed. There were 366 permits issued to burn off lots and hundreds of inspections of local business houses were made.

The greatest number of fires occur during the months of May, June and July, the figures of the fire prevention bureau show. Of these, the worst month in the year is June. In June, 1922, there were 31 fires within the city limits of Glendale; in June, 1923, there were 48 fires; and in June, 1924, there were 45 fires. The reduction in the number of present year is due to the operations of the bureau, Chief Lankford states.

The majority of fires occur between noon and 6 o'clock at night, figures show, while the period from midnight to 6 o'clock in the morning produces the fewest fires. The 268 fires of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, were divided as follows: 119 between noon and 6 p. m., 92 between 6 a. m. and noon, 47 between 6 p. m. and midnight, 10 between midnight and 6 a. m.

Modern Methods Are Put in Effect
Efforts such as the Glendale fire department is making to reduce the city's fire loss are of a decidedly modern character. In the old days the life of a fireman was largely just sitting around, with an occasional rush to a fire, where he would squirt as much water as possible, drown the blaze if he could, do a lot of damage and return to the fire house for another nap. This has all gone forever, declares Chief Lankford. A modern fire department must know many things never dreamed of a generation ago.

Every man must know the location of every fire plug in his district, for instance, the approximate pressure at each hydrant and be able to compute the friction loss between hydrant and nozzle, so that the pump operator may have the correct pressure for the amount of hose out. As there are 739 plugs in the city, the magnitude of this mental feat is appreciated.

In order that the firemen may be kept constantly on the alert, a school is held at 7:30 o'clock every night, at district No. 1 headquarters, 311 East Broadway. There, before a chart on which every plug in the city is represented by a pin, Chief Lankford fires questions at his men and they shoot back the answers lightning quick. How to get to the fire quickest and what to do after they get there are some of the questions asked. Others have to do with technicalities of placing ladders, hitching hose and other matters which firemen must know to protect life and property.

Daily Drill Under Fire Conditions
At the rear of district No. 1 headquarters a wooden tower 76 feet high has been erected. Here the men drill four hours daily, approximating actual fire conditions. One of the things they do is mount to the top of this tall tower from the outside and descend by a life rope. The writer of this report ascended the tower from the inside and was properly thrilled. He would not care to be a fireman, after learning that the ropes far above the head, inviting earth!

With a fire department lacking in personnel and equipment, short on plugs and with no automatic signal system whatever, Chief Lankford points out that not only has the per capita fire loss been kept at a low level, but that the per capita cost of this protection, which for the fiscal year ending June 30 was $1.07, compares very favorably with the $2.44 of Long Beach, $3.33 of Pasadena and $6.10 of Fresno.

PREPARE FOR SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Quantity of Laterals and Curb Connections Are Being Installed

More than 30,000 feet of sewer laterals and curb connections have either been laid or ordered since January 1, in preparation for the $1,600,000 sewer system that is to connect this city with the great Los Angeles outfall system, reports Benjamin F. Dupuy, city engineer.

There are in the city of Glendale over 110 miles of streets, all of which must be served with laterals, Mr. Dupuy states, a total of over 500,000 feet of sewer pipe to be laid before the system can be pronounced complete.

Making Preparations
While 30,000 feet is but a small portion of this total, it must be remembered, the city engineer goes on to state, that there are sections where laterals are already in, such as portions of Verdugo Woodlands and the Glendale business section.

Certain city streets moreover, such as Colorado boulevard, Sycamore Canyon drive and Sierra street, are in and a width of 40 feet in unimproved sections. This makes approximately 1,320,000 square feet to be paved, which including grading will cost 35 cents a square foot or $17.50 a running foot, making a total of $462,000 for the paving alone. Curb, sewers, water pipes and ornamental street lights will cost an additional $231,993, bringing the total cost of the improvement to approximately $700,000.

Central Avenue
While this cost may seem high, Mr. Dupuy points out that the improvement of Central avenue a distance of 7200 feet, including grading, paving, sewers, water pipes and ornamental street lights, is to cost $267,731, approximately $37 per foot.

PROCEEDINGS FOR PROJECT NOW BEING PREPARED

City Engineer Dupuy Gives Estimate on Probable Cost of Highway

The total cost of improving San Fernando Road its full length of five miles from the Los Angeles to the Burbank city limits will be approximately $700,000, it was stated this morning by City Engineer Benjamin F. Dupuy.

Of this sum, an appropriation of $60,000 has been granted by the Los Angeles county board of supervisors, as reported yesterday in an interview with Virgil B. Stone, appearing in The Glendale Evening News.

Opening and widening proceedings for this important highway are now being prepared by the engineering department, Mr. Dupuy states, and will probably be presented to the Glendale City Council on Thursday, July 24.

Width of Highway
The proceedings call for a street 66 feet wide between curbs, with a 10 foot parkway on each side, a total width of 86 feet, except where the road adjoins the Southern Pacific tracks, where there will be a parkway of but one foot on that side, or a width along this right of way of 77 feet.

In arriving at the estimated cost of $700,000 for improving San Fernando road, Mr. Dupuy figures an average paving with of 50 feet, as the road will be paved from curb to curb where the curbs are in and a width of 40 feet in unimproved sections. This makes approximately 1,320,000 square feet to be paved, which including grading will cost 35 cents a square foot or $17.50 a running foot, making a total of $462,000 for the paving alone. Curb, sewers, water pipes and ornamental street lights will cost an additional $231,993, bringing the total cost of the improvement to approximately $700,000.

Central Avenue
While this cost may seem high, Mr. Dupuy points out that the improvement of Central avenue a distance of 7200 feet, including grading, paving, sewers, water pipes and ornamental street lights, is to cost $267,731, approximately $37 per foot.

While 30,000 feet is but a small portion of this total, it must be remembered, the city engineer goes on to state, that there are sections where laterals are already in, such as portions of Verdugo Woodlands and the Glendale business section.

WILL CONTEST IS FILED IN COURT

Widow of Former Eagle Rock
Man Asks Bigger Share
Of Large Estate

EAGLE ROCK, July 19.—A contest to the will of the late Louis J. Maescher of this community, who died here July 1, 1923, has been filed by the widow, and her three brothers. The estate amounted to $160,000, of which Mrs. Maescher received only $5,000.

The Maescher brothers declare in the statement filed that their brother was induced to leave his wife, Minnie S. Maescher, of Newport, Ky., and come to California, after the couple had been happily married for more than ten years.

Maescher bequeathed a legacy of $20,000 to Mrs. Logan with the statement "this legacy being in recognition of the fact that I have made my home with her for the past ten years."

The residue of the estate was bequeathed to Lois Frances Logan, adopted daughter of Mrs. Logan. The bequest was for affectionate regard and esteem, the decedent declared.

Completing Building
The Kumaus-Michel building on Eagle Rock boulevard will be completed within one week, according to J. B. Brown & company, contractors. These two buildings, erected adjoining on a common wall, will form a very notable improvement in the business district, and will replace a building which, it was felt, was not in keeping with the general progress of Eagle Rock. The cost of the combined structures will be approximately $13,000 when completed.

The early fall will see another structure rising as a monument to the growth of this community. This will be the three-story brick block to be erected by W. H. Gill, who makes his winter here and his summer in Catalina, where he is proprietor of two hotels.

Mrs. J. C. Reiter, who issues business licenses in the City Hall, desires to have merchants reminded that the quarterly licenses are now due and payable. The penalties go on for business houses July 21.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, July 19.—Andy Craft has disposed of his famous Blue Bird cafe to Mr. and Mrs. George Marsh who have lately arrived in the valley from Iowa. The newcomers have had years of experience in the restaurant business.

W. L. Gammill is now a resident of National City, having married Mrs. Margaret Schenck of that town. Mr. and Mrs. Gammill are at present on their wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their friends in the southern city.

Wallace Tupper and wife have returned from a pleasant motor trip down the coast where they visited in San Diego and other points. Mr. Tupper is a member of the firm of Anderson & Tupper, Ford dealers of Montrose. J. R. Anderson of this firm with his family motored to the nearby beaches the other day.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson of Highway Highlands have returned to Glendale to reside, having disposed of their home in the valley. Miss Bees Brown and visiting friends in San Francisco. Miss Brown expects to be in the bay city for a week.

ORDER PAVING OF BURBANK HIGHWAY

Improve Victory Boulevard
From Sparks Street to West City Limits

BURBANK, July 19.—A resolution of intention to improve Victory boulevard from Sparks street to the west city limits has been adopted by the city trustees. This covers a section of about a mile and a half, beginning a short distance southwest of the boulevard's intersection with Central avenue at Main street. By the time the paving of this section is completed it is hoped by the trustees to have the right of way matter of that part of the boulevard which will connect it with Central avenue at Main street sufficiently adjusted to go ahead with the paving, which will be the only link left to complete Victory boulevard throughout its full course within the city of Burbank. That section of the boulevard from Central avenue to where it will connect with Riverside Drive, which follows what has heretofore been known as Main and Crescent streets, has already been paved.

The improvement in the resolution adopted calls for six-inch concrete, twenty-four feet wide, and also the laying of water mains.

Drop Annexation

The expert d petition for the calling of an election to vote on the proposition of Burbank annexing to Los Angeles did not materialize at the last meeting of the trustees.

Some of the leaders in the annexation movement is reported to have declared that the petition would not be presented until J. W. Fawkes, who heads the movement, is able to be present to participate in the presentation of the petition.

Mrs. Lawrence Taylor of San Jose avenue is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Coburn, all of Orange, who are spending the week with her.

ENGINE INSURES POWER ECONOMY

Plant to Deliver Water to Tujunga and Sunland
Is Now Installed

TUJUNGA, July 19.—There is no probability of a water shortage in Tujunga or Sunland, according to the Haines Canyon Water company, which has installed a 50-horsepower gasoline engine to effect a saving in electrical power in operating the pumps that lift the water from the company's wells to the reservoirs. The wells show no signs of a decrease in supply, say the officials.

A booster pump is also being installed to force water to the reservoir at the 2000-foot level, which supplies the upper territory served by the company and which is in normal times filled by gravity from the Haines canyon water tunnels. Other improvements planned by the Haines Canyon Water company to supply the increasing demand for domestic service are the laying of additional water mains on Hill street and Sherman way.

Attend Presentation Of Kiwanis Charter

TUJUNGA, July 19.—Leslie Henry of Pasadena was the guest of honor speaker at the Friday lunch meeting of the Tujunga Kiwanis club.

Tuesday night a delegation of Tujunga Kiwanis members attended the charter presentation of the Ontario club, held at the Mission Inn, Riverside. Among the party were: President and Mrs. A. C. Stover, Mr. and Mrs. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. MacDonald, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Buck, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Miller, V. E. Smith, Miss Smith, D. S. Wieman, Miss Helene Franke, Carroll W. Pacher, Miss Frances Morgan, Miss Georgia Shane, Leo Smith, W. F. Brown and Jesse Baughman.

Canyon's Lower End Is Open to Campers

TUJUNGA, July 19.—Big Tujunga canyon is not closed to campers except above the Hanson ranch, twelve miles up the canyon, contrary to reports circulated to this effect. Anyone wishing to camp in the canyon may do so this side of the Hanson place, but campers will not be permitted to light fires unless they secure a permit. No camping or fires will be allowed above the Hanson ranch under any circumstances, is the statement of deputy fire wardens of the district.

Giant Dirigible Will Fly to Pacific Coast

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The navy department has officially announced that the giant dirigible U. S. S. Shenandoah would fly to the west coast during a series of maneuvers to be conducted with the Atlantic fleet during August and September. The date of its departure for the Pacific was not decided upon.

COMMENT That's All

Tag! You're It! Fine!
Divorce Police, Traffic?
Do Not Blame Officers
Radio Brings New World

By Gil A. Cowan

The sooner the police and traffic departments are separated, the sooner the average citizen will respect laws and observe regulations.

Los Angeles now is in the throes of a "tagging bee" in which hapless motorists are dragged to the city jail, erstwhile police station, pest house, or whatever you may call it, and forced to pay their fines instantly without the opportunity of summoning a lawyer, notifying the employer, or anything else.

Oh, of course, if one wished to take a chance on going to jail or getting in a fight he might avoid immediate trial by insisting on his rights—which are not considered in the frenzied efforts of the police to cope with a situation which rightfully belongs OUT of their jurisdiction.

Hypothetically speaking, a person parks a car fifteen feet from a fire plug behind a small car. The latter departs and along comes a larger car. Its accompanist the driver by pushing the first mentioned machine closer to the fire plug. Officer comes along, tags the machine, takes its owner to the city court where the drunks and vags and the scum of the criminal, idle, vicious classes are being milled about. There is no doubt but what the "victim" is going to pay anything to get out and get away, only to pay tribute some other day.

In the past the writer has seen just such incidents occur. The individual police officer is not to blame, but a sleep-headed bunch of motorists who allow legislators to go to Sacramento without pleading reform; a sleepier community that permits officials to ride rough-shod over the rights of free-born, law-abiding citizens—in the last analysis the public is to blame for not demanding a fair and square deal.

Police and traffic activities should be once and forever separated. Traffic and municipal revenue should be separated. And this persecution of people who are so unfortunate as to own motor cars should stop, not only in Los Angeles, but in Glendale and every other city where it has become the fad to prey upon helpless victims.

Radio fans are numerous, but there are many who do not appreciate how really simple it is to bring this "new world" to your own home.

In five minutes' time a set may be installed and operating or it can be carried on the vacation trip.

And you do not know what you are missing if you haven't a radio. It saves money, too, which might be spent for the movies.

And, as a salesman says, you have to sit through a show, but you can turn the radio off any time the party gets rough.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, July 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown of West Montrose avenue are spending the week-end at Catalina Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Rieger and family of East Piedmont avenue have returned from a month's vacation spent in Laguna hills.

Mrs. E. Janvier of Brown avenue is entertaining as her guests Mr. and Mrs. E. Anderson and daughter of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hansen of Piedmont avenue are spending the week-end at Bell, where they are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Haberkorn.

Mrs. G. Piesker is spending the week-end at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hingston and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Busch of Piedmont avenue are motoring up the coast to Pismo Beach, where they will camp out for several days. On their return here they will leave for other points in the southern part of the state. Mr. Hingston is the conductor on the Glendale & Montrose line, better known as "Joe."

W. E. Seckler, cabinet maker and builder of La Crescenda, is establishing a new business which he will operate from the Letton Lumber company's yards. The new concern will be known as the La Crescenda Mill and Cabinet company.

Mrs. Charles Lewis is expecting to leave in about a week for a trip to Cleveland, where she will be the guest of relatives for the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Lewis is a resident of Highway Highlands.

Friends of the Culberson family are delighted over their return from their trip to Yosemite national park. The trip was made by automobile.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wattel of West Montrose avenue spent last week in Los Angeles, attending teachers' classes for Sunday school teachers. Mrs. Wattel has charge of the Sunday school of the Episcopal church of St. Luke's of the Mountains.

Mrs. Lillian Harmon of Chicago is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Virna Harmon Walker. While here Mrs. Harmon will assist Mrs. Walker in the rearrangement of her ballet and esthetic dance classes, in preparation for the coming winter work.

Emil Busch has about completed the erection of the third building on his Los Angeles avenue property in Verdugo City. The work is being done by A. C. Cox, who with Mrs. Cox expect to make a trip by auto to Stockton, where they will visit Neal Darby, who made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Cox while attending school here. Later they will go by train to Denver, where they will visit Rev. Ezra Cox, pastor of the Denver First Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Cox expect to return here about September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Newton left by auto this morning for their home in Readfield, Maine. Coming out here last autumn, the Newtons purchased a lot on Piedmont avenue near Ramsdale, where they erected a bungalow, expecting to make it their permanent home in La Crescenda valley. A few weeks ago Mr. Newton returned to Readfield to be present at the centennial of the Kents Hill seminary, of which he is president emeritus. While there the college board persuaded him to return and take up his duties there once more.

Charles Easton has bought the grocery stock acquired by the Fowler and Hodsensack firm a few weeks ago from Mrs. Woolley. With the stock transferred to the new brick building erected by Mrs. C. Perkins, Mr. Easton will be ready to give his patrons up-to-date service. A meat market will be added to the shop after the first of August.

Open Air Community Sings Are Planned

TUJUNGA, July 19.—A series of community sings will be held at the Garden of the Moon open air pavilion on Michigan avenue under the auspices of the Tujunga Women's club. The sing begins at 6 p. m. and will be under the leadership of Jimmy Smith with Mrs. Jessie Jonderton playing the accompaniments. A plan for holding union church services each Sunday evening in connection with the sings has been advanced by Rev. W. E. Smith of Sunland.

Road Crew Completes Grading on Highway

MONTROSE, July 19.—A county road crew is completing the grading work on Montrose avenue beyond the home of underdevelopment. The house belonged to Mrs. Lavender and had recently been refurbished and remodeled. Volunteer firefighters attributed their unsuccessful attempts to save the place to lack of water supply or chemical equipment in the neighborhood.

Residence Wiped Out By Fire at Sunland

SUNLAND, July 19.—A six-room house on Second street was destroyed by a fire of undetermined origin. The house belonged to Mrs. Lavender and had recently been refurbished and remodeled. Volunteer firefighters attributed their unsuccessful attempts to save the place to lack of water supply or chemical equipment in the neighborhood.

Water Company Will Install Fire Hydrants

TUJUNGA, July 19.—Contracts prepared by the county supervisors calling for the installation of twenty-five fire hydrants have been signed by the Haines Canyon Water company. The hydrants will be installed in the Tujunga-Sunland fire protection district at points designated by the county fire warden. The water company will be allowed a rental of $1 per month per hydrant.

GAS SUPPLY FOR FOOTHILL TOWNS

Pipe Lines Will Be Laid at Cost of $250,000 Into
Tujunga, Sunland

TUJUNGA, July 19.—Tujunga and environs will have gas for domestic use within the next few months, according to a report circulated here and yesterday confirmed by the San Fernando office of the Southern California Gas company, which will build a pipe line from Roscoe through the Hanson Heights district to Sunland and Tujunga.

The installation of this pipe line and service will involve the expenditure of more than $250,000 and the use of 200,000 feet, or nearly forty miles, of pipe, and will make gas available to approximately 1800 families in Sunland, Tujunga and Verdugo City territory. The main line will connect with the line already in use at Montrose, which was laid from the east up through Verdugo canyon. Pipe has been ordered, and the work will begin as soon as it arrives. Pipe varying in size from two to eight inches will be used in laying the mains on the principal streets.

According to the reported plans there will be 150 men employed in the construction of the pipe line, which will be eight-inch from Roscoe to Sunland and along Tujunga and Verdugo City territory. The service lines connecting with this main will be of smaller pipe.

DROPS DEAD WHEN SUMMONS SERVED

Notice of Annulment Action
Brought by Husband Is Fatal to Wife

SANTA MARIA, July 19.—"Thank you!"
So said Mrs. Laura Hopper Beck here today when served with a summons in a suit brought by her husband, Marcus Beck, for annulment of their marriage.

Then Mrs. Beck dropped dead.

"Death has annulled this marriage," explained the coroner, who was immediately called, as he unfasted tightly-gripped fingers from around the crumpled legal document.

In his suit, Beck claimed that his wife was not legally divorced from her first husband at the time he married her, having received an interlocutory decree the day before the wedding.

City Is Preparing for Starting Sewer System

avenue, will carry main sewer lines connecting directly with the Los Angeles outfall, Mr. Dupuy states. It is for this reason that Colorado boulevard has not yet been paved in the middle, the policy of the city engineering department being to get all sewer lines down before making permanent improvements.

Reports on Laterals

In addition to the 500,000 or more feet of sewer pipe that must be laid in the city streets, there are thousands of feet to be laid in the alleys, so that while it is impossible to estimate at this time the total number of feet required to give Glendale the modern sewer system for which the $1,600,000 in bonds have been voted, Mr. Dupuy believes that it will total close to 750,000 feet. Following are some of the streets where sewer laterals have been put in or ordered in since January 1:

Reynolds court and other streets..... 1000
Cleveland road and other streets..... 2000
Canada boulevard and other streets..... 1700
Wabasso way and other streets..... 2800
Hermosita drive and other streets..... 8188
Don Carlos avenue and other streets..... 1458
Fifth street and other streets..... 4600
Sinclair avenue and other streets..... 2530
Central avenue and other streets..... 7030

With the amended sewer contract between Glendale and Los Angeles signed, and ordinances adopted by each city granting the other the right to construct sewers in its territory, Mr. Dupuy believes that the greatest obstacles to the project have been overcome and that work should start as soon as specifications have been agreed upon, the bonds sold and the contracts let.

Plan New Theatre In Record Realty Deal

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—In what is said to be the largest real estate transaction ever consummated on the Pacific coast, William Fox, film producer, and associates, has taken a long lease on property in the heart of the city where he will erect the largest theatre west of New York and two twelve story twin office buildings, it was announced today. The price paid for the lease was said to be $27,000,000 and the buildings will cost more than $4,000,000. The theatre will seat 5000 persons.

Wheeler as Running Mate of La Follette

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Senator La Follette and Wheeler! This new third party ticket was thrown into the presidential race today when Senator Burton K. Wheeler, famous Daugherty prosecutor, announced he would accept the offer to run as vice-presidential nominee in the Senator Robert M. La Follette drive for the White House.

Wheeler's acceptance of the proffer, it was learned, came only after Senator La Follette made a personal appeal to him. Wheeler, a Democrat, of Montana, declined a similar tender several days ago.

Parliamentary Law Club's Members Enjoy Program At Mid-Summer Meeting

At the sign of "Ye Kopper Kettle" members and guests of the Women's Parliamentary Law club met yesterday for a mid-summer luncheon, which is destined to become an annual event included in each year's program of this rapidly growing organization.

BIBLE STUDENTS GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Vacation School Ends With Program Presented by Class Members

The closing of the vacation Bible school of the Presbyterian church which has been conducted during the past few months by Miss Anita Fletcher and a group of assistants, was marked by the presentation of the diplomas and an interesting program presented last night.

The program included demonstrations by the pupils of the various departments in memory work and a piano solo, "I'm a Camp" by Burcham Landerdale and song by the members of the Junior quartet, "In the Garden." Diplomas were awarded to the pupils of the school by the heads of the various departments, Miss Winnifred French of the beginners; Mrs. Rowe, primary; Mrs. Chouin, junior; Rev. H. B. White, executive secretary of the church, gave a talk pertaining to the curriculum of the school.

Prizes Are Given

During the evening prizes were awarded to winners of the races and other features staged at the annual picnic of the Sunday school several weeks ago. Prizes were also awarded to the pupils of the various departments of the Bible school having attained the highest rank in certain phases of the summer work.

Mr. White states he wishes to thank all those having helped to make the vacation Bible school a success and also those who assisted or took part in the evening's program.

ADD 20 MEMBERS TO LEGION POST

Initiation Staged at Hall Last Night; Convention Delegates Named

Twenty new members were initiated at the regular meeting of the Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, held last night in the Legion hall at 610 East Broadway. Members of the Highland Park, Burbank and Eagle Rock posts attended the meeting and enjoyed the frolic during the session.

Seven delegates and seven alternates to the national convention, to be held in St. Paul September 15 to 19, were elected last night. The delegates are: W. H. Regelin, George Grist, Thomas D. Watson, Glenn E. Mapes, James S. McBride, Joseph A. Wilson and E. E. McMinn. Alternates named were: Dr. Edwin Armstrong, Emil O. Keifer, Charles Gibb, Iler Walker, Ivan Crocker, Chalmers Day and J. H. College.

M. T. Vestal was elected treasurer of the post, following the resignation of W. A. McCormick, who has removed to Hollywood.

EASTERN DOCTOR LOCATES IN CITY

Dr. L. L. Craven, Rochester, Minn., Opens Office In Bank Building

Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Craven, recently from Rochester, Minnesota, have taken up their residence at 540 North Louise street. Dr. Craven has opened a suite of offices in the Security Bank Building, for his practice as a specialist of eye, ear, nose and throat ailments.

The Cravens' daughter, Miss Marjorie Craven, who has been a guest of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Kent at the Mayo clinic, left early this week with Miss Louise Mayo for a summer visit with Miss Craven's aunt, Mrs. W. C. Wallin, of Jackson, Michigan.

Dr. and Mrs. Craven and Earl Russell of Pasadena, were entertained early in the week by Mrs. Lulu Russell Clark in Hollywood. A horseback ride through the bridge paths of the Hollywood Hills and a southern dinner were enjoyed.

EXTEND TIME ON GAS TAX MEASURE

Petitions May Be Filed Up To July 26; More Names Needed In City

The last day for the filing of supplemental petitions for a proposed constitutional amendment allowing the cities of California to share with the counties in the proceeds of the state gasoline tax, is Saturday, July 26. This information was received by Virgil B. Stone, city manager, in a letter from C. B. Goodwin, secretary of the League of California Municipalities.

It had previously been announced by Mr. Stone that an additional forty days would be allowed for signing and filing the supplemental petitions but the latter states that the first petition from the city of Glendale was filed too late to come under this ruling.

Would Aid City

The object of these petitions is to obtain for the cities a division with the counties, on a per cent basis of the one-half of the net proceeds of gasoline tax which the counties now get. Mr. Stone points out. In the letter received from Mr. Goodwin, the information was offered that San Jose has filed a petition containing 4578 names. The petition filed by Glendale contained only 500 names.

A copy of this supplemental petition has been placed at The Glendale Evening News office and other copies are located at the City Hall, Automobile club office and elsewhere about the city. They should be signed by Friday, July 25, in order that they may be filed with the Los Angeles county registrar by Saturday, July 26.

CHURCH SOLOIST WINNING PRAISE

Mrs. Mina Wenzel Pleasing Audiences With Vocal Selections Here

Mrs. Mina Wenzel, lyric soprano soloist at the Glendale Presbyterian church is receiving compliments from her hearers. Mrs. Wenzel was formerly soloist of the Church of the Puritans, New York City, and also soloist at B'nai B'rith Temple, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mrs. Wenzel possesses a warm and sympathetic voice that appears destined to bring her many laurels. Critics who have heard her sing agree that she has a large, carrying voice of lyric expression, broad and even in range and possessed of remarkable tonal values.

Mrs. Wenzel first made her public appearance in solo work at the age of nine years and has been doing church work since twelve years old. She has studied under the direction of J. P. Grotzer, director of music of the Greater New York School of system.

In Concert Work

In concert work she has appeared with the late Dr. Carl Duff of New York and also with Fred Patton, famous baritone, soloist and John Campbell, tenor. Since her arrival in California, she has appeared in operatic roles with Tomassino's band at the Municipal auditorium at Ocean Park. She also made her appearance at numerous receptions and concerts throughout the southland.

MYSTIC SMILERS OPEN CONVENTION

Election of State Officers Today, Banquet Tonight For Delegates

The program outlined for the state convention of the Mystic Smilers which will convene this afternoon at the First Methodist church, corner of Kenwood and Wilson avenues, will include during the early part of the afternoon registration of delegates and visitors followed by a business meeting and the annual election of state officers.

A banquet for Mystic Smilers will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the social hall of the church with Henry Malone presiding as toastmaster. At this time Mayor Spencer Robinson will give the welcoming address. Other speakers for the evening will include Dr. Rose of Eagle Rock, and Past Supreme Grand Mystic Smiler Joe Ewing of Burbank, and Dr. Coke Woods of Lincoln Avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

The Methodist orchestra under the direction of William Weise will furnish a musical program. J. B. Clark will be the soloist for the evening.

Ready To Build Homes

The picture shows D. C. CASSELMAN, known to his many friends as "Tip," cordially greeting Glendale on his return from an eastern business trip. He wears the smile that won't come off. And, say his friends, it is a smile of confidence in the future of Glendale, where the Homecrafts corporation, whose real estate department he heads, has recently purchased thirty lots on which they will build fine homes. The lots are located in Rossmore, the Haddock-Nibley company's well known tract in northeast Glendale.

The Homecrafts corporation of 416-18 East Colorado boulevard has purchased thirty lots in Rossmore, the well known Haddock-Nibley company tract in northwest Glendale, and will develop them with high-class houses, announces D. C. Casselman, manager of the real estate department of the Homecrafts corporation.

Mr. Casselman is well known throughout Southern California, being a resident of Los Angeles for twenty years. To his friends he is "Tip" Casselman, because of his way of seeming to have inside information of real estate conditions. He believes Glendale is headed for a great development and is thoroughly sold on the Rossmore tract, where his company is heavily interested.

Many remember D. C. Casselman as candidate for mayor of Los Angeles in 1916. For thirteen years he served as chief deputy in the public administrator's office of Los Angeles county and was one of the organizers and first president of the Los Angeles County Employees' association. Mr. Casselman is a past exalted ruler of an eastern Elks' lodge, past chancellor commander of the Knights of Pythias, past president of the Union League club, past chairman of the Republican City central committee, and during the war was chairman of an informal executive committee for county employees for all Liberty Loan and Red Cross drives. In 1913 he was secretary of the Los Angeles Builders' exchange.

In addition to his many positions in public and private life, D. C. Casselman has an enviable reputation as an orator, having made hundreds of addresses in and around Los Angeles, during the last twenty years.

WEEK'S CARNIVAL TO OPEN TONIGHT

Thursday Afternoon Club to Raise Funds to Build Organization Home

Final arrangements are completed for the opening tonight of the industrial show and week's carnival in the big tent in the triangle in South Glendale, for the benefit of the Thursday Afternoon club building fund.

A baby show will be held Wednesday afternoon and mothers of the babies who will enter are expected to register before noon of that day.

The contest for queen of the carnival is attracting wide attention and votes are being sold by the candidates, all of whom are well-known residents of the southern section. Candidates now in the race are Marjorie Gilhuly, Adele Lloyd, Bessie Aber, Golden Pender, Polly Richmond, Sally Trump, Audrey Haines and Alice Castle, and the lists are still open for entries.

Mayor Spencer Robinson is expected to be a guest of honor at tonight's opening and will be featured on the music program. The Scouts' band will also entertain during the evening with their ever-popular music.

Mrs. M. C. Newton, club president, assisted by Mrs. Al Vaulet and Mrs. Wm. Gould, has been directing the advertising with headquarters at the office of L. C. Denman, 1400 South Brand boulevard. Mr. Denman has also been active in assisting the club members in the undertaking. Mrs. E. V. Bacon and Mrs. Leamon, at the office of Wickman & Brooks, on San Fernando road, are directing the leasing of concessions and entertainment program.

GETS TITLE ROLE IN FOREST PLAY

Harold L. Brewster Chosen For Rip Van Winkle's Part In Pageant

Harold L. Brewster, instructor in dramatics and public speech at the Glendale Union High school, has been chosen by Garnet Holme to play the title role in "Rip Van Winkle," to be presented July 26 and 27, in the wonderful natural surroundings at Giant Forest.

Widely known for his clever character delineation, Mr. Brewster's friends are predicting great success for him in the role of Rip Van Winkle, which runs the gamut of human emotions, from comical good-fellowship to pathetic old age. He was selected for the part because of the splendid work he did as "Dad Benec" in the recent community production of "Kempy."

Playing opposite Mr. Brewster will be Mrs. Herbert, English actress, who will portray Dame Van Winkle.

Forest Background

The little village of Falling Water, known to all childhood memories of Washington Irving's "Legends," will nestle beneath the giant Redwoods, and when Rip awakes from his twenty-year sleep he will look down upon a view that stretches for seventy miles beneath him.

Mr. Holme, who is director of pageantry in the national forests of the United States, is at present rehearsing a talented cast, preparatory to leaving for final practice this week in the forest.

This is the third annual forest play given under the auspices of the Save the Redwoods league.

OCTOGENARIAN IS GUEST OF HONOR

Mrs. Lydia Pratt Surprised At Anniversary Party On 80th Birthday

Mrs. Lydia Pratt, who is the youngest and only surviving member of a family of thirteen, was pleasantly surprised on her eighty birthday, Wednesday, July 16, to find herself honored at an informal party arranged by her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Hubbert of 226 North Cedar street.

"Grandma," who was born in Illinois, lived for many years in Iowa, but, during her four years' residence in Glendale, she declares "The Fastest Growing City in the United States" is the nearest to heaven she has ever been.

Possessed of a keen mind, "Grandma" Pratt is interested in local and national affairs. She proudly claims four children, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Invited for the birthday party were relatives and friends, many of the friends being old pioneer friends in Iowa.

List of Guests

Mrs. Mary Cole, a niece from Orange, Cal., and her son, Albert Cole and family, from San Pedro, were among the guests. Others were Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. McGuffey, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Alter, of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. James Carlson, of Monterey; Mrs. John Rhodes, Mrs. Sadie Hurst, Mr. McLean, of Eagle Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Compton, Mr. and Mrs. William Dunning, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bacon, Dr. Clara Hewen, Mrs. Rider, Miss Daisy Rider, Mrs. George Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buck, Alfred Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newhouse, of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gaumer, of Pasadena.

HILLSIDE VISTA PICTURE'S THEME

Artist Transfers Glendale Beauties to Canvas During Stay Here

The beautiful view west from the new Glendale Sanitarium building on the neighboring hillside, has been put on canvas by Mrs. Hannah Tempest Jenkins, California artist of Claremont, who is sojourning in Glendale.

Mrs. Jenkins painted the picture from the window of her room and has made a most interesting study of the hills and Sylamore canyon in the foreground.

Another bit of work done by Mrs. Jenkins in her room is some work on an oil of a scene at the San Juan Capistrano mission.

Mrs. Jenkins is a faithful student of California history and romance and she has painted over 100 pictures at the various missions. She is contemplating going east next year and will give illustrated lectures on the missions of California.

Big Victory For Coolidge, Predicts W. E. Evans, Back From Republican Meeting

That Calvin Coolidge will be elected to the presidency of the United States by a popular vote that will rival that cast for the late President Harding, in 1920, is the opinion of Attorney W. E. Evans, 625 Cumberland Road, Glendale, who returned yesterday to his home here after attending the Republican national convention in Cleveland and a tour through the leading cities of the east, where he was in conference with many of the leading Republican political leaders.

"The Cleveland convention," said Mr. Evans, "was harmonious in every way and President Coolidge was the unanimous choice of the Republican party as a whole. My trip, covering many large cities in the east, south and middle west, convinced me that Coolidge is possibly as popular with the American people, as a whole, as Theodore Roosevelt ever was. Without regard to party affiliations, the people of the sections I visited feel and express themselves that Coolidge is both capable and strictly honest."

Received By President

During his visit to Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Evans were received by President Coolidge, and the generally accepted belief that Coolidge is a man of few words who maintains a distant attitude was dispelled by the welcome he accorded them.

"His conversation convinces me," says Mr. Evans, "that he is intensely interested in the people as well as in the affairs of the country. He discussed the situation in California, making a number of inquiries as to the outlook here in November, and, besides thanking me personally for what I had been able to do in his behalf, he asked me to convey to other Coolidge supporters his personal thanks and appreciation." They also enjoyed a visit with Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce.

Mr. Evans, before leaving San Francisco on the Coolidge special train, had been named as an alternate by T. J. Minnehan of San Francisco, a delegate to the convention, and was seated in the convention hall with the alternates.

Democratic Situation

Discussing the situation as it affects the Democratic party, Mr. Evans says:

"The reflection that I get is rather amusing. The Democratic party has always accused the Republican party of being dominated by Wall Street and the big money interests, but they have now, through force of circumstances, nominated a man who was directly connected with an attorney for the house of Morgan, and who was also in close relationship with the Standard Oil company and other big corporations.

"The nominee of the Democratic party was unmercifully attacked by W. J. Bryan before the convention, but Bryan was in line since his brother was nominated for the vice-presidency."

The reaction that Mr. Evans found to the La Follette candidacy is that the independent candidate will possibly carry Wisconsin and South Dakota, although he declares that many Republican leaders from those states assert that he will not be able to carry either one. "La Follette will get a considerable vote from the labor unions and from the radical elements of all parties, but the Republican party has not relied in the past, nor will it in this campaign, rely strongly on that vote. My opinion is that La Follette will draw from both major parties almost equally," declares Mr. Evans.

Conditions Improving

Business conditions in the east and middle west are improving, according to Mr. Evans' observations. "There is little or no complaint on the matter of employment of labor, and the rise in the price of wheat and corn in the past few weeks is creating a better feeling among the farmers with the outlook for crops never better."

After the close of the convention Mr. and Mrs. Evans visited New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, and spent several days at Louisville, Ky., at Lexington, and at London, Ky., their old home, where they renewed the friendships of years with those they had known before coming west.

Boy Injured By Bear In Trainer's Absence

REDDING, July 19.—John Doane, 10, is recovering from the painful bites inflicted by a supposedly tame circus bear at a hospital in Redding near here.

The bear was chained to a platform and in the absence of the trainer the lad tried to make it perform. Fourteen bites were inflicted in the skull, none of which was serious.

PLAN FOR DEFENSE

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Following the statement of District Attorney Asa Keyes that he would demand the noose for Charles W. Morris, Long Beach real estate operator, charged with the murders of his wife, Theresa, and his business associate, Henry D. Meyer, millionaire Pasadena resident, Morris' attorneys today began to prepare his defense.

MILITARY BURIAL HELD BY LEGION

Taps Is Sounded as Body of Corp. E. Brymildsen Lowered In Grave

Recalling war days, when fallen soldiers were brought home for final honors, the funeral and burial yesterday of Corporal Ernest Brymildsen, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brymildsen of 508 Alameda street, who was instantly killed last Saturday by electric shock at Fort Bragg, N. C., was marked by solemn dignity.

Gathered about the flag-draped casket in the chapel of the Jewel City Undertaking company on North Brand boulevard, were relatives and friends, with members of the Glendale post, No. 127, American Legion, in military uniform, to pay tribute to a fallen comrade.

Legion In Charge

Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church, directed the service at the chapel. Mrs. Charles A. Parker, accompanied by Mrs. L. N. Hagood sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Crossing the Bar."

The final service in the American Legion lot in Grand View Memorial park, Adjutant E. E. McWain of the Glendale post had charge. It was most impressive as the body of Corporal Brymildsen was borne to its last resting place by six Legionnaires in military uniform. The pallbearers were George Grist, H. J. Hannemann, H. D. Charlton, George H. Thompson, S. C. Gilberth and Al Wheelon.

"Taps" Sounded

R. H. Miller was color bearer, and the color guard were two star and life Boy Scouts, Lyman and Charles Bosserman of Glendale Troop 3.

As the casket was lowered into the grave there was a farewell salute by a firing squad, and the silvery strains of "Taps." The soldiers' farewell was sounded by a bugler from Fort MacArthur.

Corporal Brymildsen was a member of the First Observation Battery at Fort Bragg. His death occurred when he was assisting in raising an iron flagpole, which came in contact with a high voltage wire.

FIRMER STAND ON QUESTION TAKEN

W.C.T.U. Reiterates Previous Resolution Regarding Roscoe Arbuckle

Glendale W. C. T. U. members have the courage of their convictions and yesterday meeting with Mrs. Henry Nicolaus at 357 West Doran street, they emphatically reiterated their indorsement of the resolution passed at a previous meeting in regard to Roscoe Arbuckle.

It was stated that an anonymous letter had been written to Mrs. W. C. Bacon, president of the W. C. T. U. on the resolution, which was given prominence in The Glendale Evening News.

Statement Issued

During the discussion of the letter yesterday Mrs. Bacon declared that she did not take the letter as a personal insult but as a communication to the entire union. The following statement comes from the W. C. T. U.: "Let us be fair. The W. C. T. U. is a band of Christian women as the name implies. We are not only working against the liquor traffic, we are working for the uplift of humanity and for the morals of our young people. We believe in putting before them the best in entertainment. We admit a wrong can be forgiven and we realize that this man, having been a favorite, carries with him great influence, and having been implicated in such a tragic affair, it seems to us it would be better for the rising generation that he be not so much before the public."

Mrs. Bacon presided over the meeting. After the singing of "How Firm a Foundation" a duet was sung by Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Yeoman. Later Miss Zorah Glassey sang a solo, "Somebody Cares."

Poisonous gases, similar to those used during the war, are sometimes found in the London fogs.

SUGGESTIONS FROM THE TRAFFIC COMMISSION

On Thursday, May 15, this year, The Glendale Evening News published the first report of the newly appointed Glendale Traffic commission. The report was signed by M. Walters, chairman; M. B. Towman, secretary; and endorsed by the other members of the commission, Alexander Mitchell, C. D. Thom, S. C. Packer, A. F. Priest, R. F. Adams, H. M. Kuhn and W. F. Yeo.

In view of the fact that traffic conditions in Glendale seem to be the subject of considerable interest at present, and in view of the further fact that in yesterday's Glendale Evening News Secretary Towman of the commission declared that the City Council has "ignored" the commission, the report is republished herewith in full:

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council: Your traffic commission, after a careful survey of traffic conditions in the city of Glendale, herewith respectfully submits the following recommendations with a full belief that they will in a large measure eliminate much of the present day complaint and will tend to eliminate traffic hazards and confusion.

1 That the street budget which has heretofore been raised by traffic fines be paid from the general fund and that all traffic fines in a fiscal year be added to said street fund.

(This in order that there be in no department an incentive to arrest and fine for revenue.)

2 That the council, police department and traffic commission confer regularly regarding traffic conditions.

(This in order that criticism be eliminated through suggestive co-operation.)

3 That two meetings per month for traffic instruction of and conference with patrolmen and motorcycle officers be held with representatives of council and traffic commission. First meeting date to be designated by mayor.

(This for information as to progress of any changes adopted and for closer bond between citizenry and department.)

4 That absolute courtesy be the rule and practice of all arresting officers.

(This order should not only be repeatedly issued but vigorously enforced.)

5 That motorcycle officers patrol the streets in the open in plain view of motoring public—not sitting out on side streets or hiding. (This complies with the state law and convictions cannot be rightfully or legally secured if this provision is violated by the arresting officer.)

6 That officers direct and control traffic, warning where possible, instead of making arrests for technical violations.

(In the belief that traffic control will eliminate accidents better than arrests for technical violations.)

7 That the number of traffic officers on the force at the present time be maintained, and that the motorcycle squad of eight men be maintained.

8 That small fines and suspended sentences, at the discretion of the court, be the rule for misdemeanors.

(This of course does not pertain to reckless driving or driving while intoxicated.)

9 That a flood light and flasher be installed at Gardena and Brand, illuminating cross over sign. Repaint arrow in street and erect new sign displaying the words "TURN RIGHT." The Automobile Club of Southern California will erect this and other necessary flashers without charge.

10 That strangers in our city be shown every courtesy and WARNED, not arrested, for Glendale traffic violations. (This is not meant to include reckless driving or speeding.)

11 That the boulevard stop system be put in effect as follows: That Brand boulevard be declared a "Boulevard Stop Street" and that all traffic entering same from any intersecting or intersecting street, from Ferritos avenue to Doran street, inclusive, shall come to a full stop before entering upon said boulevard.

That Glendale avenue be likewise designated as a "Boulevard Stop Street" within the same street boundaries.

Your commission has refrained from transmitting to you hundreds of petty criticisms and suggestions received from the public but has endeavored to give you constructive recommendations based on a careful analysis of conditions.

There are many suggestions still under advisement by your commission which will be transmitted to you when properly worked out.

Very respectfully submitted,
GLENDALE TRAFFIC COMMISSION,
By M. Walters, Chairman.

Attest: M. B. Towman, Secretary.
As endorsed by all members of Traffic Commission.

On June 12, the Glendale City Council gave out for publication a letter to the traffic commission in which it was declared arrests were not being made for revenue; that the council "will be glad" to meet with the commission to discuss problems; that such meetings will convey suggestions to the police department; that the order of "absolute courtesy" is in effect; that motorcycle officers are not hiding out; that "the council is in hearty accord with your sixth suggestion, but believe that your suggestion might more aptly read, 'That officers continue the policy of directing and controlling traffic, warning where possible instead of making arrests for technical violations,' as this council believes that such has been the policy, and that such policy has been very generally observed."

The council also declared the seventh suggestion is approved and that the eighth suggestion, "rests entirely in the discretion of the court." The council also approved the ninth suggestion, and in regard to the tenth suggestion declared "this is but a reaffirmation of the policy now and heretofore enforced." The council concluded with the statement that there was a "great deal of merit" in the boulevard stop suggestion, but "has not yet been able to arrive at a definite decision."

Meanwhile, it is admitted that traffic conditions are in a muddle. There is general complaint—from Glendale people and people passing through the city. There must be a remedy—and it should be applied immediately. We quote from Secretary Towman's interview in yesterday's Glendale Evening News:

"Some one has said that the Glendale Traffic commission has died the death of a rag doll. It has been worse than that. The City Council which appointed us has ignored us, and the question naturally arises, 'Why was the traffic commission appointed in the first place?' The commission held fourteen meetings within three weeks after it was named. We have not held a meeting for the past three weeks because we felt there was nothing for us to do, and if we did do it, what co-operation would we get from the city? . . . The commission met once with the City Council. That was before we made our report. We asked a lot of questions, and although all the councilmen were there, City Manager Stone answered the questions. We found out later some of the answers were incorrect. There was no move made by the council to correct these errors. There was no given. But, when we stated things in our report, based on some of these answers, we heard that 'we evidently had the wrong idea about some matters.' Every request we made to the City Council has been utterly ignored. We asked that the officers be polite. The council said we should have asked that the officers continue to be polite. The other things were along the same line, so the members of the commission finally threw up their hands and individually and collectively said: 'What's the use?' The citizens want us to act as the City Council or the citizens. If the citizens want us to act as their representatives on traffic problems, all right, but we do not feel that we should continue as a commission in name only."

Judging by expressions received by The Glendale Evening News, the "next move" is up to something or somebody. Traffic conditions are becoming unbearable.

Handshaking

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Came some days ago Dr. Francisco X. Suacelli, health expert in New York, and declared war against handshaking.

We wish to line up under Dr. Suacelli's colors and take our place among the enemies of handshaking.

We confess to a certain dislike to being pawed in any way. We always disliked old gentlemen who, in our youth, used to pinch our ears and put our heads.

That the amiable friend who shows his good will by pounding us on the back means well does not keep us from wanting to murder him.

And then there are those who are always catching hold of your arm and putting their hand upon your knee and otherwise massaging you.

We may be flinchy, but when we need treatment we prefer to go to a Turkish bath and pay our dollar and a half and have it done by a husky who knows how.

Handshaking is merely a custom.

Still more, it is merely a symbol.

Now a symbol or a custom is of value only because everybody has agreed to it. They could just as well agree to another one.

Therefore, we hereby move that handshaking ought to be abolished. The motion is put and carried.

Instead of a handshake we would suggest the salute. Some such gesture, for example, as is used in the army. It would be just as easy for two people to raise the hand to the forehead, or, if they prefer, to the nose, as it would be to shake each other's hand.

When we think of all the various palms we have been in contact with—hard and horny palms, sweaty palms, gooey, listless and reluctant palms, over-eager and suggestive palms—we are inclined not to feel very well.

Then there is the energetic person who thinks he must show his cordiality by grasping all of your phalanges and breaking them in his tremendous clasp. He is the man whose notion of pleasantness is pounding you on the back with a blow that loosens your back teeth.

Not, of course, that we would be pernicious. There are times. We do not pretend to deny that there are times. And when, along with the time, there comes the place and the girl, we can do our little task of handshaking and palm massaging along with the next man; but these things are not matters to be discussed in public.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

When I see the man who is constantly trying to "do" the other fellow, no matter who he may be or how high a position he may hold, I put him down for a cur. There are those who do right when they have to, and take advantage of others when they can, and they are not very admirable members of society.

There are men who will agree to take a job for so much. Maybe they have underbid reputably workers in order to get the job. In the first place, this puts the other bidders in an unfavorable light, for it makes it seem that they are too high and are trying to get more than the job is worth. Having outwitted his competitors, he knows he cannot want the work for the amount specified, so he goes about systematically substituting cheaper material and shoddy labor where they will not show. Of course, the man who employs him will find this out sooner or later, but this kind of a fellow doesn't look beyond this one job. He isn't clever enough to try to build up a reputation for honesty and integrity and good work. He isn't smart enough to know that such a course will pay better in the end than the dishonorable one he is pursuing. All he can see is the money he is to get for the particular job he is doing. Then he goes after another job, gets it the same way and cheats in the work. Often he is able to keep up this method for a good while before he is found out.

I have been thinking about a substitute for competitive bidding for contract work of any kind, but have been unsuccessful as yet. I have about come to the conclusion that this system, pernicious as it is, will have to serve until all men become honest. The ideal way, of course, is to give your work to an honest man and let him keep a time and record, first having given you an estimate, and then charge you what the work is worth. In almost any kind of work a bidder has to guess at certain items. But when you do not know whether or not the man who asks for your work is honest you don't want to give him too much rope. However, when you give the job to the lowest bidder you may get stung anyway.

I am not saying that the lowest bid is always too low, nor that the highest bidder is always dishonest or unintelligent. But there is a tendency when bidding is competitive to keep the amount down below what the work can honestly be done for. Then it is up to the man who gets the job to make something out of it anyway.

I have seen men who engaged in such practices and, as I said, I have no use for their kind.

CITY ENGINEERS OFF FOR PICNIC

Employees of Department to Ventura Beach Today; Two-Day Outing

An automobile caravan of approximately 100 employees of the city engineers' department and their families left Patterson avenue park at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, bound for the beach above Ventura, on their first annual picnic. They were headed by W. J. McIntyre, assistant city engineer.

The caravan will stop for a few minutes at Santa Susanna pass for refreshments, arriving in Ventura at 4:30 o'clock, then proceeding on to the encampment, where they will pitch their tents and enjoy "chow" about 6:00 o'clock.

Sunday there will be field events, a weenie-eating contest, swimming and a ball game in the afternoon between the field force and the office force. The caravan will start home about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to information contained in the "Plans and Specifications" of the picnic, which were blue printed and placed in the hands of the engineers, "so that they might know just where they were at," as Mr. McIntyre put it.

Sheriff Is Seeking Two Trained Nurses

RIVERSIDE, July 19.—Sheriff Ryan is looking for two trained nurses. He has information that Miss Ruth Peake and Miss Elizabeth Deane are wanted. However, there is no criminal charge hanging over their heads. Simply a matter of an estate bequeathed them by John W. Hunt. Officials here can find no trace of the two women, but it is believed they must be employed somewhere in southern California.

SALMON PACK CUT

SEATTLE, Wash., July 19.—Packers and bankers closely associated with the salmon packing industry expect that the Alaska pack will be cut an average of 15 per cent as a result of new regulations put in force by Henry O'Malley, United States Fisheries commissioner. Early reports that the Alaska pack would be reduced from 35 to 50 per cent by regulations which went into effect June 21 are believed to have been exaggerated and best available authorities place the maximum of reduction at 25 per cent.

Changsha, China, is to have a $100,000 Y. M. C. A. building.

Horoscope

Planetary influences today are unfavorable, according to astrology. Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and the Sun are all in malefic aspect. During this planetary government it will be wise to avoid business as much as possible. The sway is not fortunate for any sort of constructive work and may bring a sense of discouragement, or futility.

Engineers, contractors and all who work through the medium of stone, iron and concrete should be especially cautious in making contracts at this time.

Mars is in a place that certainly indicates much thought about military matters and much effort on the part of army officers to focus attention on war possibilities.

Men who have held positions of authority are subject during this rule to suspicion and loss of popularity.

Abuse and criticism will be aimed at men and women who are prominent and scandals will be whispered by those who have ignoble purposes in political matters.

Mines may be the scenes of accidents of grave import and there is likely to be peril in tunnels or excavations.

All who seek employment will do well to postpone initiative until friendlier stars rule.

Loss of prestige for more than one public man is forecast and great self-interest will be evident among women as well as men.

Labor will be subject to discontent and unrest during the next few weeks in which there will be strikes and lockouts.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be very careful to conserve money and to conduct business on conservative lines during the coming year. The young will court and marry.

Children born on this day may be rash, impulsive and difficult to direct, but these subjects of Cancer usually have big possibilities. Girls probably will have artistic talent and will be exceedingly fond of luxuries.

Mother-of-pearl shells are plentiful at Manzanillo, Mex., and a button factory may be established there.

Today's Poem

SONG FROM "MAUD"
O, let the solid ground
Not fail beneath my feet
Before my life has found
What some have found so sweet.
Then let come what come may,
What matter if I go mad,
I shall have had my day.
Let the heavens endure,
Not close and darken above me
Before I am quite, quite sure
That there is one to love me!
Then let come what come may,
To a life that has been so sad,
I shall have had my day.
—Tennyson.

"O, LOVE IS NOT A SUMMER MOOD"

O, love is not a summer mood,
Nor flying phantom of the brain,
Nor youthful fever of the blood,
Nor dream, nor fate, nor circumstance.
Love is the flower of maidenhood;
Love is the fruit of mortal pain;
And she hath winter in her blood.
True love is steadfast as the skies,
And once alight, she never flies;
And love is strong, and love is wise.
—Richard Watson Gilder.

Smiles

WRONG BAIT, MAYBE
A fisherman, who had been angling all morning, saw a man coming his way whom he took to be the owner of the property he was fishing on. The clerk exhibited one of those private waters?" he said.
"No," was the answer.
"Then it won't be a crime if I land a fish?"
"No," said the other. "It would be a miracle!"

SAFETY FIRST

There is a certain Hollywood doctor who is not above prescribing for some patients, who only imagine they're sick, some remedy he imagines they'd like to take, hence, when a pretty movie widow came to him with a vague complaint, he was right on the job.

"My dear," he murmured, "you are slightly morbid. You should look about you, and marry again."
"Why, doctor," beamed the little woman, "is—is this a proposal?"
"My dear woman," protested the doctor in alarm, "let me remind you that a doctor prescribes medicine, but he doesn't take it."

EASILY CORRECTED

A rich and listless lady patron examined the handbags in a leading jeweler's shop in New York City. The clerk exhibited one bag five inches square, made of platinum and with one side almost covered with a setting of diamonds. This was offered at a price of $9000.

But the lady surveyed the expensive bauble without enthusiasm. "She turned it from side to side and over and over, regarding it with a critical eye and frowning disapprovingly. At last she voiced her comment:

"Rather pretty, but I don't like this side without diamonds. Honestly, the thing looks skimpy—decidedly skimpy!"

For $7000 additional, the objectionable skimpiness was corrected.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Members Will Draft Plans For Coming Session Of State Solons

President Henry P. Barbour of the California Real Estate Association has named the following as members of the legislative committee of the California Real Estate Association:

Freeman H. Bloodgood, Santa Ana, chairman; William H. Akin, W. L. Brent, Los Angeles; C. E. Arnold, San Diego; F. R. Caldwell, Oakland; B. H. Spalding, Los Angeles; Leslie E. Burks, San Francisco; Chris R. Jones, Sacramento; E. J. Morrissey, Sacramento; W. F. Price, Santa Rosa; Bruce Cornwall, San Francisco; Francis O. Reed, San Jose; H. V. Harriman, Tujunga; Frank D. Parent, Inglewood.

The committee will meet shortly to draft plans for the forthcoming legislative session. It is the intention of the members to have everything in shape to present to the members of the association at the annual convention in Pasadena in October.

Honolulu After Cup

Honolulu is seeking honors at Pasadena. The winner of last year's attendance prize at Sacramento was the Honolulu Realty Board. Three delegates made the trip from Honolulu to Sacramento and thereby won the prize. This year Honolulu expects to repeat, but the delegation will be materially increased and the realtors of the Hawaiian Islands will try to carry back to their mid-ocean home other prizes, including the one for the five minute Home Town contest. C. C. Crozier, president, and W. L. Morgan, secretary of the Honolulu Realty Board, are preparing to show the realtors of the mainland how splendidly things are done in Honolulu.

Following the appeal to the realty boards of the state to send funds to aid the homeless of the tornado visited Ohio city, President Henry P. Barbour has been advised that Los Angeles, with $500, and West Hollywood and Long Beach with $100 each, responded immediately to the request for aid for Lorain. Other boards are taking the matter up at their regular meetings and will advise the association as to the amount of their subscriptions later.

Ordered to Rest

Following his attendance at the national convention of the realtors, then at the Republican convention in Cleveland and then at the reunion of the Amherst College alumni, President Barbour returned to his home thoroughly fatigued and on the advice of his physicians is taking a three weeks' vacation.

The Alhambra Realty Board and the Long Beach Board of Realtors recently passed amendments to their by-laws making it imperative for the owner to sign a listing before it will be taken by any member of either realty board. This decision was reached after it was ascertained that listings had been given without due authority and that when the real estate broker appeared with the client it was impossible to deliver the property. Hence the rigid enforcement of the amendment will be demanded.

Tax Is Reduced

The Orange Realty Board has succeeded in having the city council of Orange reduce the occupational tax on real estate brokers to $12 per year instead of $24 according to advice received at the headquarters of the California Real Estate Association. Willis A. Martin and G. W. Murphy, representing the board, appeared before the council and stated that the tax was originally made high to protect the brokers of Orange from outside competition, but that in that regard it had failed utterly and therefore a reduction was asked. The council was unanimous in granting the reduction.

Ontario Kiwanians Receive Club Charter

ONTARIO, July 19.—This city now boasts a Kiwanis club, the charter being presented local members at a dinner served in the Mission Inn at Riverside Tuesday night. District Governor A. Heber Winder presided. International Trustee Leslie B. Henry of Pasadena was the principal speaker.

FIREBUGS SUSPECTED

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Fires which caused the loss of more than $100,000 in the Signal Hill oil district near Long Beach and of $1,000,000 in San Francisco lumber yards, were set by firebugs, according to J. N. Fyles, a private detective here.

Joint Session of Bankers and Title Men Will Be Held

What promises to be one of the most important sessions of the leaders in the real estate and financial world of California will take place at Catalina Island, September 11, 12 and 13, when the California Title Men's Association and the California Bankers Association will hold conventions at the invitation of the president of the California Title Men's Association, President Henry P. Barbour of the California Real Estate Association. A representative to address a joint meeting on real estate legislation.

It is considered likely, under a plan now being formulated by the California Real Estate Association, that several changes will be asked in the real estate laws of the state. Efforts are under way to formulate a program to harmonize the real property laws of the state to make for greater efficiency and speedier release on the part of the title companies.

FIRST PLACE ON INCOME RETURNS

Los Angeles District Leads In Number of Filings Over Entire U. S.

Figures on the number of personal income returns filed in 1923 in the United States as a whole which became available today in a report received from Washington by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, show that the Los Angeles district led the entire country in percentage of increase in the number of personal returns filed in 1923 compared with 1922.

While the increase in the United States as a whole was only 1.8 per cent the gain in the Los Angeles district was 30.3 per cent. In the city of Los Angeles the increase reached the phenomenal figure of 62 per cent indicating that Los Angeles is growing more rapidly in population and wealth than any city in the United States.

Leads Eight States

New York, Illinois, New Jersey, Michigan, Ohio, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Texas, the states outside of California producing the largest number of returns, registered a combined net increase of 49,581 personal returns compared with an increase of 53,732 in the Los Angeles district alone. Twenty-two internal revenue districts, the star collection units of the revenue service, are required to handle the business of the eight states named, yet the Los Angeles district alone registered a greater increase in number of returns filed than these twenty-two banner districts combined.

Collector Goodcell said that the treasury report showed that the United States as a whole registered an increase of 125,305 personal returns filed in 1923 over 1922 and that 53,732 of this increase was furnished by the Los Angeles district.

Increase Shown

Indicative of Southern California's rapid growth in population and production of income, Collector Goodcell pointed out that since he became Collector of Internal Revenue of the Los Angeles district, the number of personal returns filed annually had increased 81 per cent. In 1922 only 155,126 returns were filed while in 1924, the total number of returns filed was 281,030. The annual increase in the number of personal returns filed during the last five years in the Los Angeles district has set a new mark for the United States and affords evidence of a rapid but sure and consistent growth in population and income. Here are the figures by years:

Number of returns filed 1920	110,834
Number of returns filed 1921	151,155
Number of returns filed 1922	176,959
Number of returns filed 1923	230,682
Number of returns filed 1924	281,030

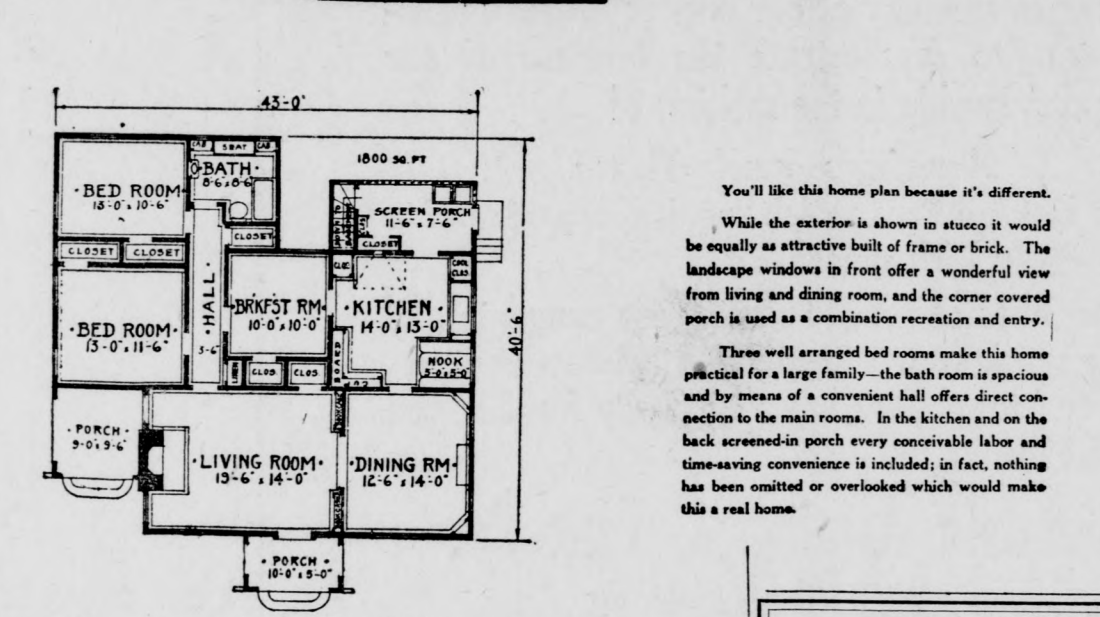

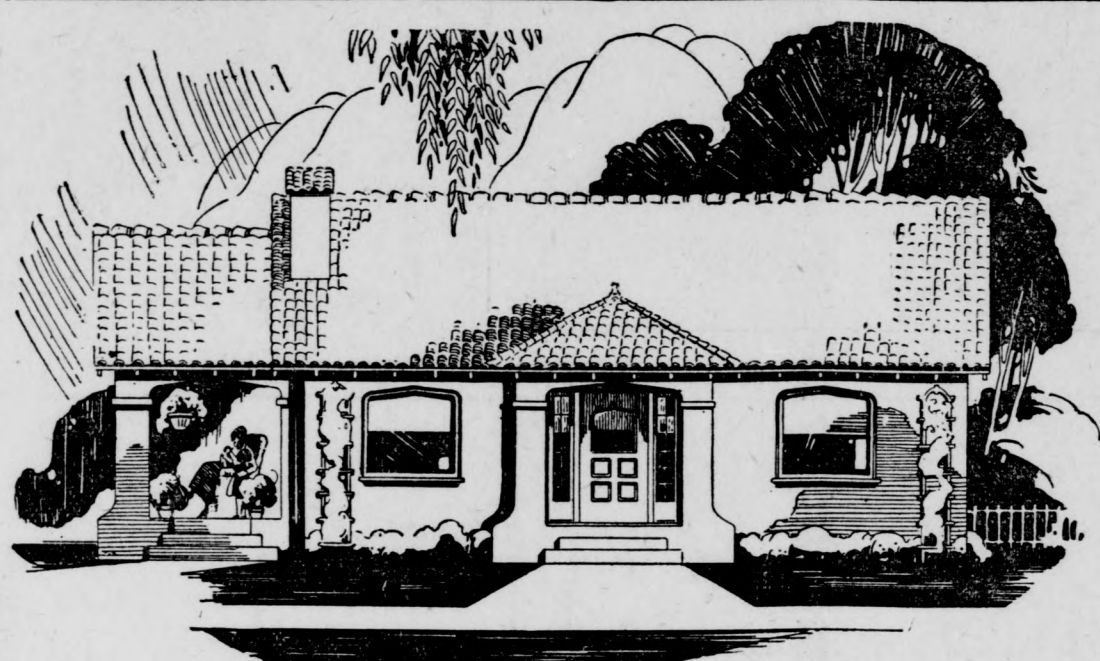

Increase 1924 over 1920, 153 per cent.

Business Increases In Southern Lumber

NEW ORLEANS, July 19.—New business took a jump of 30.2 per cent at the mills of the Southern Pine association last week, while shipments decreased 1.6 per cent and production increased 9.6 per cent. New orders totaled $4,900,000, shipments 64,100,000 and 67,000,000 produced.

'Joys' Of Home Building

The beginner who tries to attend to all the details of building a residence is ill-fitted, in many cases, to cope with the difficulties attending that operation. Bentley Lumber Company is fitted to lighten the burden of this responsibility through its service department.

FLOOR PLAN NO. 1827

By DONALD R. GILLIN
Service Mgr., Bentley Lumber Co.

After deciding, like most other "first-timers," to build without the services of a modern, up-to-date plan service and contractor, the first thing to do is to collect your quota of gray hairs.

The next thirty days should be spent in trying to get a permit and handling the thousand and one details you're not familiar with, and that probably some wide-awake lumber merchant has had all worked out for you years ago.

The next sensible step is to throw up your hands in disgust, wind up the old Lizzie, flivver down to Bentley Lumber company's plan service department, select from their hundreds of plans a plan of your dreams, and award a contract to a responsible builder whom they recommend to you.

Then bundle the wife and kiddies back into the flivver and beat it for the beach. When you get back, the house will be finished, and some one else, who is used to it, will have had the worry.

And just put it down that this, in the long run, is the only common sense method to build and save. The above plans may be seen at the offices of the Bentley Lumber company, situated at 460 West Los Feliz road.

ASKS CHANGE IN NAME OF HIGHWAY

Petition Asks Commission To Alter Description Of Canyon Road

Action on the petition that was presented to the City Planning commission last Monday night, asking that the name of Sycamore Canyon road be changed to Chevy Chase drive, is expected to be taken at the meeting to be held Monday night, when Bert Farrar, the developer of the Chevy Chase estates, will appear before the commission to speak in support of the petition.

In a letter accompanying the petition, the reasons for the request are given, among them being that there are so many places bearing this name that confusion is constantly occurring in the minds of those not intimately acquainted with this district. The connection with Sycamore wash with the name of Sycamore road is also given as one of the reasons why a change would be advisable, and it is stated in the letter that the prejudice that exists would be eliminated by the change in name.

The Chevy Chase estates consist of 1600 acres of the Anderson property lying northeast of Glendale, and Mr. Farrar is planning to develop the tract under this name. One of the principal developments that will be made will be the construction of a boulevard through from the Glendale end of the property to Flintridge, with a branch to Linda Vista and Pasadena, and he has already named this route, where it traverses the property, Chevy Chase drive, and it is his desire that the continuation of the road down into Glendale should bear the same name.

Glendale city authorities are planning to pave Sycamore Canyon wash where it runs through the city, making of it a 100-foot boulevard, and the county officials are planning a survey with a view to improve Sycamore Canyon road outside of the Glendale city limits. Mr. Farrar declares, especially since the passage of the recent flood control bonds that will permit the expenditure of $450,000 on Sycamore and Verdugo canyons.

Mr. Farrar declares that many of the property owners along the route are signing the petition, and that the suggestion for the change of name is meeting with a favorable response almost generally.

SHIPPING OF SILK

SEATTLE, July 19.—A shipment consisting of 4,536 bales of raw silk and 125 cases of silk goods from Japan, valued at $5,000,000, is now on the way to New York under passenger train schedules. This is expected to be followed by other heavy shipments.

Popular priced automobiles are greatly in demand in France and factories are operating at capacity.

ENTHUSIASM TROPHY IS DONATED

Boards at Pasadena Meeting To Demonstrate Pep For Rich Prize

The Pasadena Realty board has donated an "Enthusiasm Trophy," to be awarded to the realty board which, at the annual convention of the California Real Estate association, shows the greatest enthusiasm at the convention.

Virgil J. Morris, chairman of the publicity committee, has announced the rules under which the contest will be judged. The trophy will be held for a period of one year by the winning board, then to be reawarded by the California Real Estate association at the ensuing conventions. Any board winning the trophy four times becomes the permanent owner of it.

Boards Are Ready

The Huntington Park Realty board recently awarded the prize for the best song on Huntington Park, which will be sung by that board at the Pasadena convention. The prize was won by Everett L. Andrews, an insurance broker of Huntington Park, after more than 100 residents of that city had taken part in the contest, which was conducted by the Huntington Park Realty board.

Fullerton has named a convention committee to prepare banners and souvenirs to be used by the Fullerton delegates.

Whittier has been busy for three weeks already, arranging for the convention in October, when gaily decorated automobiles will carry 100 from Whittier to the Crown City.

Richard Ainsley, president of the newly-formed San Joaquin Valley Real Estate association, has promised that the towns from Stockton to Bakersfield will send a delegation of 500 in an automobile.

Race Restriction Resolution Passed By Monrovia Board

According to advices received at the headquarters of the California Real Estate Association, the Monrovia Realty Board has passed a rigid resolution regarding the sale or rental to anyone of any race, other than the Caucasian, of property located in any block wherein the Caucasian race makes up a majority of the residents of the block.

Lincoln Backus, Della Woodward and J. Frank Long comprised the committee which drew up the resolution which was unanimously endorsed. Banks and brokers not members of the realty board will be urged to sign the agreement to assure Monrovia of proper restrictions for all residential property at all times.

Returns From Crops To Reach High Total

ST. PAUL, July 19.—Business interests which center in the Twin Cities already are bullish on the outlook for heavy trade during the next six months as a result of estimates by experts that the northeast farmers will harvest crops which will bring in $175,000,000 more than those of last year. The increase to growers based on recent market advances and prospective yields from increased acreage is placed by Professor Andrew Boss, agronomist of the University of Minnesota, at $185,000,000.

Auto Trade Picks Up On New Model Sales

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 19.—There has been a pick-up in automobile manufacture recently, due to demand for 1925 models. Inventories now are reported in excellent shape at local factories and a good business is forecast for the remainder of the year.

PLANS BEING DRAWN FOR FACTORY

New Industry to Open Here Soon Will Manufacture Hollow Walls

Plans and specifications are now being prepared for the erection of a plant for the manufacture of pre-cast concrete hollow walls for buildings, and as soon as these are completed, which, it is expected, should be within a week, the work of erecting the first unit of the factory will begin.

The Thermosoid Construction Company, Inc., with offices in Los Angeles, has leased a five and one-half acre tract at San Fernando road and Colorado boulevard, through Roy L. Kent Company, 130 South Brand boulevard, on a 96-year lease, lying on the west side of the Southern Pacific tracks, and it is planned to start at once with the construction of an administration building and to build six units of the factory as business demands.

Vacuum In Wall

Edward F. Needham, the inventor, states that the Thermosoid process consists of casting sections of concrete hollow wall, sixteen inches wide and the height of one story, with a space in the middle of four inches, which embodies a vacuum effect that insures equable temperature in the house at all times, and, as these sections are arranged in place in the buildings, a system of locking ribs holds them together and makes a building that, he says, is marked by its stability, its economy of construction, and by being absolutely fireproof.

The site chosen on San Fernando road is about 100 feet from the railroad tracks.

Own Your Home

Pay Your Rent And Have It Too

All the advantages of a high class rented home are yours at much less than the cost of rental. And should you care to build you may have many improvements not found in the average rented house or apartment.

Added thereto is the sense of ownership, that proud feeling of being the possessor one's own home. Then there is the secure feeling that your roof cannot be taken from over you, your home will not be sold, rents increased or lease terminated without your consent.

Right Now Is a Good Time to Build

cording to figures in the engineering department.

The type of paving recommended for San Fernando road by City Engineer Dupuy is a six inch or preferably eight inch base, either of cement concrete or asphaltic concrete, with a two inch top dressing of some asphaltic surface not controlled by patents, the latter provision being to allow open bids on the contract.

With the large amount of paving work now under way or scheduled in the city of Glendale, Mr. Dupuy believes that work on San Fernando road could not be completed before next spring, even if the necessary proceedings are instituted at once.

Mountain Climbers Scale Mt. Geikie In Canada Rockies

OTTAWA, Ontario, July 19.—An official report on the scaling of Mount Geikie, in Jasper national park, acknowledged as the most difficult peak in the Canadian Rockies, was received by the department of the interior today. The peak, which is 10,854 feet high, was climbed by a party consisting of Cecil Watts of Edmonton and Sim D. Geddes of the Alpine club of Canada, and Valley Finn, Alpine climber, of St. Louis. It took the party thirty-six hours to make the ascent.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

Mrs. F.—Your child has had a sty every week for several months. She refuses to drink milk. Your baby is seven months old and you want advice on feeding.

By the time you can see this in the paper, your baby will probably be eight months old, or over, and I sincerely hope you have not waited for my answer. Please, mothers, realize that it takes some time for the answers to appear in the column, if they can appear at all, and that you must see your personal physician for questions of any seriousness.

Styes are due to infections in the oil glands connected with the lashes. Anything that lowers the resistance of the tissues favors the development of the germs which cause the sty—eye strain, prolonged exposure to strong or dusty winds, undernourishment, over nourishment, or any disease that lowers the resistance. Wash the eyes two or three times a day with boric acid water, one teaspoon of the crystals of borax to the pint of boiled water. Get a little tube of 1 per cent. yellow oxide of mercury and rub on every night. You may have to see an oculist. It is possible that she is suffering from eye strain. Continue the local treatment every day, even after the sty has disappeared.

If your child doesn't drink milk, she evidently is suffering from malnourishment. There is no food that can take the place of milk. The child must have milk in some form, even if you have to starve her to it. Withhold all food until she will take her milk. She should have at least three glasses a day and preferably a quart. Parts of this can be taken in simple custards and cooked in cereals, or she can have very weak cocoa. Perhaps the addition of a drop of rose coloring which is used for icings, or something similar, which you can get in your grocery stores, will attract her. If she can have egg-nogs. But it's a nuisance to have to fix milk up in any fancy forms. She should be trained to drink plain milk.

A baby from seven to nine months of age should be fed every four hours, at 6 and 10 a. m., and at 2, 6 and 10 p. m., with two or three tablespoons of orange juice between morning feedings. At the 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. feedings she should have, before her nursing bottle, strained cereal, three or four tablespoons, and a piece of dried toast to nibble on. At the 2 p. m. feeding she can have, besides her bottle, some strained vegetables, one or two tablespoons. The cereal should have been begun by the sixth month, beginning with one-half level teaspoonful and increased the same amount every day until about two level tablespoonfuls are taken. The seventh month she can have vegetable or beef juice, minus all fat. The vegetables can be begun in the same manner as the cereal, at the eighth month.

Mrs. S.—A merasmic, or undernourished, child is much more liable to infection from the tuberculous germs than a normal child, but the condition itself does not turn into tuberculosis. Have you been following our column so that you know what is to be done for the undernourished child? We have a list of books on infant and child feeding, which you may have. While the diet is extremely important, other things are also extremely important—long hours of sleep, long rest periods, non-irritating surroundings, plenty of outdoor play and sunshine, a correction of physical defects, and the like.

Mrs. H. C.—Send for the weight and height tables, and for our articles on thumbsucking and bed-wetting (Enuresis). Enclose $1.00.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—this will not use in or for sale. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or answer you personally. I appreciate your sending me much love and letters to give you individual answers. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as interest. Don't forget to let me know if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

From Omar Shrine

A group of Glendale people of Omar shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, motored to Hollywood last night for the reception at the Hollywood shrine for the supreme queen and her attendants. From Glendale were Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Browne, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jurgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Leland, Mr. and Mrs. Cannady, Mrs. Maude Smith and Mrs. Mae Warrick. Mrs. Pierce, junior worthy high priestess of Omar shrine, represented the junior worthy high priestesses, all of whom carried arm bouquets of Shasta daisies. As they marched to the east to greet the supreme queen each one handed her flowers to Mrs. Pierce, who finally presented them to the supreme queen with a clever political greeting. A banquet and program were features later. The supreme queen and her attendants will be honored with another reception, to be held Monday night at Long Beach.

Elect Officers

The meeting of the northeast group of the Women's home missionary Society of the First Methodist church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. H. Olmstead, 301 North Belmont street.

During the meeting the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. Those elected are: Mrs. Ed M. Lee, leader of group, Mrs. E. H. Olmstead, assistant leader; Mrs. A. T. Knight, secretary; Mrs. Wolber, treasurer; Mrs. S. Mathieson, chairman of children's work; Mrs. Moicourt, secretary of literature; Mrs. Simmons, mite box secretary. After the business session work was started for the missionary box to be sent to Mrs. Olmstead's son who is doing missionary work in Thongwa, Burma.

Class Has Party

Members of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church were entertained Thursday night at a house party by Mr. and Mrs. E. Robinson at their beautiful new home located on the corner of Glenoaks boulevard and Sleepy Hollow drive. Mrs. Robinson is teacher of the class.

Dinner was served in the sun room and later the party took a hike up the trail to the ridge overlooking Eagle Rock. Later in the evening games and an informal social time were enjoyed. The guests included Ethel Chase, Maude Moody, Mary Circle, Alice Fitz, Edith Stevens, Florence Kirk, Esther Potts, Helen Corbett, Etta Weed, and Sara Polard.

Afternoon Club

Rebekah Afternoon club members met yesterday afternoon in the Odd Fellows hall, 201-A West Broadway for their regular business meeting. The business session was called to order at 2 o'clock by the president, Viola Ertel. At this time plans were made for a five-hundred card party to be given at the next meeting, August 8. All Rebekahs and their friends are extended a cordial invitation to attend. A nominal admission will be charged, the proceeds to be applied toward the general fund.

Meet For Dinner

The regular monthly business meeting of the Pythian Sisters was held last night in the K. P. Hall with a very good attendance. The meeting commenced at 8:30 o'clock with the monthly birthday dinner. This proved a very enjoyable feature of the meeting. Later in the evening a short business session was held with Mrs. Mabel King, most excellent chief, in charge. At this time the regular routine of business was transacted.

Birthday Event

Raymond McCracken son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCracken of 325 McHenry street, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary Friday afternoon with a lawn party at the A. B. Solberg home at 321 McHenry street. An afternoon of games, contests and a general good time was enjoyed by those present including Mrs. A. B. Solberg, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCracken, Marjorie Solberg, Rodney Solberg, Evelyn Sinclair McCracken, John Robert McCracken and Jackie Bailey.

Dance Monday

Neighbors of Woodcraft will meet Monday night, in the Odd Fellows hall, 210-A West Broadway at 8 o'clock, it is announced. Dancing will be enjoyed during the evening. The committee in charge of the social hour includes Mrs. Littleton, chairman, assisted by Mesdames O'Donnell, Chrisman and Pierce.

Community Dance

Mrs. Dorothy Morton Hastings, chairman of social dancing for Community Service, announces a community dance for Thursday night, July 24, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. There will be dancing from 8 till 11:30 o'clock.

Visits Relatives

Mrs. Ella Cowan arrived this morning from Sterling, Ill., for a summer visit at the home of her brother-in-law, A. T. Cowan at 324 North Central avenue. Traveling west on the Santa Fe route, Mrs. Cowan stopped in Oklahoma, where she was the guest of her sister, and also enjoyed a visit to the Grand Canyon. This is her first visit to California, and during her stay of a month she will enjoy trips to various points of interest.

VALLEY BOOSTERS TO MEET TUESDAY

Next Program to Be Given At San Fernando; Pick Three Speakers

The program for the next monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley will be held at San Fernando on Tuesday night July 22, when Hugh Pomeroy, of the Regional Planning Commission, will speak on parks and regional planning. Harry H. Merrick, president of the Greater Los Angeles Association, will speak on industrial development, and Frank C. Weller, of Glendale, from the sixty-first assembly district, candidate for the state assembly from the sixty-first assembly district, has also been asked to speak.

Fred Deal, recently appointed as a member of the executive committee, will also attend. He reports that the committee is considering plans for the improvement of Tujunga and Pacoima washes and will shortly have some recommendations to submit to the association.

Beauty Chats

SUNBURNED HAIR

Sunshine is good for the hair, as we all know. But too much or too strong sunshine burns the hair, as it does the skin, and then special treatments must be taken. Really sunburned hair is about six shades lighter on top and dry and fuzzy looking. The oil is burnt out of it. For the moment the hair should be dressed differently, perhaps parted in a new place so as to cover the sunburned portion and expose new hair to the sun.

Oil must be used liberally. I would suggest that the scalp be massaged one night with warm or hot olive oil of the finest grade you can buy. If you can sleep comfortably with the hair tucked under a muslin cap, do so, for the oil should spread all over the hair, especially over the burned part, and it spreads more easily if the hair is rolled up inside a cap. Besides, the pillow is protected. Next morning, soak a small square of flannel in the oil and rub over the outside of the hair, simply to be sure the sunburned part is well greased. In an hour, shampoo. I'd suggest an egg shampoo. This takes the oil out and does the burned hair good, too.

Sun dried hair needs an oil treatment

After the shampoo, when the hair is dry again, moisten the finger tips with fine grade machine oil, the finest you can buy, and rub all over the scalp. This amounts to nothing more than using good brilliantine for high grade machine oil is so fine it won't make the hair greasy. And you apply but a few drops to the scalp when you merely moisten the finger tips. But the scalp takes it up and sends it along each hair. The result—fluffy, glossy locks instead of dry, fly-about, sunburned hair. Try it. And by the way, remember this tip about machine oil when your hair looks dead and dry and mousy.

T. Z. L.—I will be glad to mail you the formulas for using henna, but they cannot be published at this time. If you send for them, include in the request a stamped, self-addressed envelope for forwarding. Bobbie—Even though you do not cook for yourself, you can do much to keep yourself from getting so stout. Eat sparingly of all fat making foods and give preference to those which do not bring on weight. All starch foods, oils, and sweets will make you fat, while green vegetables, salads, lean meats, and moist fruit will have the opposite effect. You can eat less in quantity also. If you had caloric information it would help you as you can base your diet upon the number of calories you need.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Fall and Doheny to Withhold Statements

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—"Neither myself nor Mr. Fall will have any statement to make at this time or any other time." This was declared here by E. L. Some time ago one of our readers, "Mrs. M. M.," requested directions for making paper beads for portieres. Here are the results of this appeal. I think it is most kind and generous of these readers to send us these directions:

Mrs. H. A. O.: "I make paper beads by cutting a leaf-shaped piece of wall paper about four inches long and one inch wide, tapering to a point at each end. Roll this closely over a steel knitting needle, beginning at one pointed end, and paste down the other pointed end when you finish rolling, using photo paste. When you have made all the beads, varnish them to keep them in good condition, then let dry and string them on fine fish-line with a colored glass bead between each two home-made paper beads."

Mrs. C. T. gives practically the same method except that she says: "Cut wall paper into triangles, having the base of the triangle as long as you wish the finished bead to be. Roll these over a hat pin, colored side out, beginning to roll from the wide end; fasten tip of triangle down with glue. Remove hatpin when the glue is dry, then paint the entire bead with white shellac."

R. McM. says: "Use brightly colored magazine advertisements, cutting these into triangles three inches in length, from point to wide end, and having the wide end one and one-half inches wide (this will be the length of the finished bead). Roll the triangle over a steel knitting needle, rolling down from broad end to point, and fasten down tip with paste. Dip bead into white shellac for a bright effect."

Mrs. I. La R. suggests making these beads, 12 inches long for

Compiled by Members of The Evening News Staff

"The Gray Fox" will be presented tonight for the last time at Murphy's tent theatre on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo. Starting Sunday, "A-Mile-a-Minute-Kendall" will be the play for a week, announces Manager J. A. Menard.

Reparation Plan May Be Scrapped, Is Fear

ONEIDA, N. Y., July 19.—Brigadier-General Charles G. Dawes was called upon by Pierpont B. Norris, former Rhineland commissioner, to use his influence with the administration to secure more extensive American participation in European affairs.

Unless the United States takes a positive and official attitude toward the settlement of the reparations problem, the Dawes report will be scrapped by the European governments, Norris said in a letter to General Dawes.

Grape Shipments for East Are Under Way

BAKERSFIELD, July 19.—The first shipment eastward of California grapes started this week, two weeks earlier than usual. Growers received unusually good prices for the early lots. Shipments of table grapes this year are expected to exceed 2,000 carloads compared with 836 last year.

Charles H. Cushing reports an increase in the number of card holders at the Tropic public library; 919 card holders are now registered; 1455 books and magazines were circulated in June; total number of volumes in library, 1842.

The building committee of the Tropic Thursday club will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president, on Glendale avenue, Wednesday afternoon.

But two or three property owners on South Brand boulevard observed "clean up day." There is enough discolored paper, paper rubbish and bits of wood pulp lying around on the streets, alleys and open lots in Glendale to furnish some ambitious citizens with sufficient raw material to operate a paper mill for twelve months.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S CAMP FIRE

The rabbit gentleman hopped up the steps of his hollow stump bungalow, whistling cheerfully and twinkling his pink nose. "I hope Nurse Jane has something good to eat!" said Uncle Wiggily to himself, for it was about the hour of noon and time for lunch.

But, to his surprise, Mr. Longears did not see his muskrat lady housekeeper in the kitchen. Nothing was cooking on the stove and there wasn't a dish on the table—not even an empty dish.

"This is very strange!" exclaimed the bunny. "I hope the Wolf didn't slip in and carry Nurse Jane off to his den. Then he saw a little note written on a piece of white birch bark paper with a stick that had been blackened by the fire."

"I have gone shopping with Mrs. Twisttail, the lady pig," said the note, which was from Nurse Jane. "You will find your lunch in the ice box."

"Hum! So that's how it is, is it?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "A cold lunch in the ice box when I wanted hot pancakes and strawberry shortcake. Well, I know what I can do! I'll make a camp fire in the woods and bake some potatoes and roast some apples! They will make a good meal and I'll have fun at the same time."

In the kitchen Uncle Wiggily found some apples and potatoes. He also took a kettle to boil water for tea. Packing these and other things in a basket, the bunny gentleman hopped to the woods and there he built a camp fire on some flat stones.

"This is the jolly life!" cried the rabbit as the fire began to blaze. "I'm glad Nurse Jane went shopping!"

When the fire had burned down to red embers, the rabbit put in some potatoes to bake and apples to roast. Over the fire he hung a kettle of water to boil for tea. Then he looked around for a flat stump he could use as a table.

"Now, if Nurse Jane were only here, with Mrs. Twisttail, the lady pig, I could give them a little lunch," said Uncle Wiggily, rubbing his paws and twinkling his pink nose. "And how good those potatoes and apples smell. The tea, too, will soon be ready. But I suppose I shall have to eat alone by my camp fire."

"No, Uncle Wiggily! You are not going to eat alone!" suddenly growled a voice, and out of the bushes popped the Woodie Wolf. "I have come to eat with you—in fact I have come to eat YOU!" snarled the Wolf. He was just going to catch the bunny, when, all of a sudden, one of the potatoes, roasting in the fire, burst up the steps of his hollow stump bungalow with a noise like a gun—"bang."

"Oh, so you have a gun! You're shooting at me!" cried the frightened Wolf. "I guess, after all, I won't stay to lunch with you!" And away he ran while the bunny laughed.

"Well, I'm alone again, after all!" said Mr. Longears. He was just going to eat, when out from behind a rock jumped the Fox. "You aren't alone now!" snarled the Fox. "I'm here to eat you!"

But just then an apple, roasting in the hot embers, burst and some of the seeds hit the fox. "Wow! wow!" he cried. "Don't shoot me any more, Uncle Wiggily! I'll run away and be good!" And away he ran.

Once more the bunny was left alone. But, all of a sudden, the Bob Cat popped out at him. However, just as the Bob Cat was going to nibble the rabbit, the tea kettle over the fire began to boil and hiss.

"Oh, I hear a snake! A snake!" yowled the Bob Cat, who was much afraid of snakes. And away he ran. So for the third time the bunny was left alone and he ate his lunch safely by the camp fire and had a very good time.

And if the rain drop doesn't fall into the bathtub and get all wet when it's trying to tickle the perfume bottle on the nose, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the paper hats.

PLANS TO ERECT BOXING STADIUM

Structure Seating 8,500 to Be Erected; Legion to Have Supervision

Glendale's boxing coliseum, seating 8,500 people and representing an expenditure of $300,000, is assured, Benjamin Unger, of Los Angeles, announced today. The coliseum will be erected on a two-acre tract at Los Feliz road, Central avenue and Cypress street, and will be under the supervision of Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion.

Only high-class boxers will be secured for events here, Mr. Unger promises. No second-raters, would-be, has-beens or ham-and-eggers will climb through the ropes in the new coliseum, Manager Unger declares. There will be no training quarters or gymnasium in connection with the coliseum, and boxers will have the same status as a theatrical company playing at a theatre—come in, do your stuff and move on to the next jump, Manager Unger said.

The permit for a boxing coliseum and permission to conduct boxing bouts has been granted to the Glendale post by the City Council, under the existing laws and regulations of the state and city ordinances.

Seats Cost $50,000
"The coliseum will be enclosed," Manager Unger said in discussing the plans for the big place. "It will seat 8,500 and the seats will not be the rough, uncomfortable circus seats or folding chairs so often found in such places. The seats will be upholstered in leather, and will cost $50,000."

"Boxing cards will be staged at least once a week. Only the best talent we can secure will be used. No cheap stuff and no brotherly acts go. We are out to give the people their money's worth, and shall expect the boxers to give us the same."

"The coliseum will be the only fireproof boxing coliseum in Southern California. Modern and up-to-date ventilating, heating and cooling systems will be installed. It will be a place where women will enjoy coming, and we will cater to the best class of people in this vicinity."

Start Work Soon
"Work will be started within the next thirty days and the building will be rushed to completion. We expect to stage bouts before the first of next year. The matchmaker has not been selected, but a good one will be picked in a short time. All bouts will be under the supervision of the American Legion."

"There will be an arch entrance to the coliseum on Los Feliz road, and another entrance on Central avenue. The frontage on Los Feliz road will be filled up with ten high-class store rooms, making it not only an amusement center, but a commercial district."

SET NEW RECORD IN LONDON MEET

U. S. Athletes, After Paris Honors, Start Strong In Great Britain

By DAVIS J. WALSH

For International News Service.
LONDON, July 19.—American athletes who took part in the Olympic games in Colombia stadium and met their English brethren in a dual meet today, started off with a record-breaking performance when they won the 400 yard relay in 37.4-5 seconds, setting a new world's mark.

The Americans won by two yards, Charles Padlock, the Los Angeles A. C., was left at the post at the start, putting the Americans behind, but in the final two laps Chester Bowman of Syracuse university beat Nichol, the Englishman, and Alfred Leconey of the Meadowbrook club, best Abraham of England, breaking the tape two yards in front.

Jackson V. Scholz of the New York A. C. was the fourth American in the relay.

American runners won the four-mile relay by eighty yards, Time, 17:46 2-5 seconds.

Favorites Eliminated In Doubles at Skokie

GLENCOE, Ill., July 19.—George Lot and Axel Graves of Chicago eliminated William T. Tilden and Sandy Wiener in the fourth round of the men's doubles of the Illinois state championship 3-6, 6-1, 6-3, here yesterday.

Brian Norton of St. Louis, formerly of South Africa, sprang a surprise by eliminating Gerald Patterson of Australia, captain of the Australian Davis cup team, 6-4, 6-2.

Patterson seemed unable to solve Norton's corner placement and often hit into the net. Howard Kinsey of San Francisco will meet Norton in the semi-finals.

Tickles Old British Lion

MISS KATHERINE M'KANE, British net marvel, who defeated Miss Helen Wills, Californian, in the women's singles for the title at Wimbledon, England, and upset the predictions of many Americans who picked Miss Wills to win.

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Written For The Evening News

Five years ago Suzanne Lenglen, dashing French maiden, flashed across the tennis horizon—took the sport universe by storm. Over a span of five years she dominated the courts—held the world's championship against the greatest women players America and Great Britain could produce.

Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, sturdy, rugged Norwegian, pitted her skill, endurance and cunning against the Parisian's game repeatedly and lost. Great Britain sent her best against Mlle. Lenglen, only to see the French girl triumph.

Then came Helen Wills. This 17-year-old maid of the Pacific Coast rose in meteoric fashion to the heights on this side of the Atlantic. She capped a sensational season last year by defeating Mrs. Mallory after the latter had reigned supreme on the United States courts for three years.

"This is the maid to wrest Miss Lenglen's honors from her," decided the experts. And Miss Wills' playing merited that decision. When she led America's fan letters to England recently for the world's championship tourney at Wimbledon and the Olympic games later it was generally agreed that the tourney would—or should—end with Miss Wills meeting Miss Lenglen for the title.

Illness Alters Plans
Both stars reached the semi-finals. Then illness forced Mlle. Lenglen to withdraw from competition. Miss Wills remained. The finals brought her and Miss Katherine McKane, English girl together. And in a match that produced some of the most brilliant tennis ever seen on the famous Wimbledon courts the British girl turned back Miss Wills—matched her every play and took the points in with aggravating regularity.

Miss Wills won the first set only to lose the following two and the match.

When it was all over the experts were at a loss to explain it. Miss Wills' play was steady. She was accurate in her placements and daring in her returns. Her powerful stroking, always an important part of her game, was in evidence as usual. She out-drove Miss McKane consistently.

In only one angle of the game did Miss McKane seem to have the edge. That was in close net play. Her cuts at the net were deadly.

Her backhand returns were little short of marvelous, however.

American Tank Stars Leading In Olympics

LES TOURELLES, France, July 19.—The Olympic swimming contests continued today with the United States far in the lead with a total of 116 points, compared with Sweden's 39 and Great Britain's 26.

In the initial heat for the men's free stroke, 100-metre race, Trolls of Sweden was first, followed by Duke Kahanamoku. The second heat was won by Henry of Australia in one minute, three and one-fifth seconds. Boyne of Canada won the third heat in one minute and six and two-fifth seconds, with Zorrilla of the Argentine in second place.

Johnny Weismuller of the United States, whose swimming has been the outstanding feature of the meet thus far, won the fifth heat in one minute, three and four-

COAST TITLE WON BY JOHNNY ADAMS

Frankie Burns Outpointed, Outslugged In Main Go At Hollywood

By A. S. HALL

Of The Evening News Staff.
Johnny Adams, who parks his gloves over San Bernardino way, got a large floral horseshoe, the Pacific Coast lightweight championship, the promise of an appropriate title belt, a lot of punches and plenty of cheers when he won the decision over Oakland Frankie Burns last night at the Hollywood Legion stadium. It was the final bout of the lightweight elimination contest started some time ago by St. Masters, manager of the stadium.

The bout was a fitting climax to a card of slap-bang slugging, and kept the fans on edge the entire time. A large delegation from San Bernardino was on hand to lend encouragement, while Frankie had a large following cheering for him.

Slug Constantly
Burns walked to his corner after the first round with a slight margin. Adams took the second round on aggressiveness, when he started carrying the fight to Frankie. The third went to Adams after a lot of toe-to-toe slugging that pleased the spectators. Adams centered his attack in the final frame to Frankie's body and drove him to the ropes repeatedly.

Larry Murphy and Gene Delmont staged a slugfest in the semi-windup, Murphy getting the decision. There were plenty of gloves flying during the entire melee and the multitude appreciated it. Joe Medina got the decision over Johnny Lotsey, but not until he had taken a lot of punishment, although Lotsey carried the fight most of the way. Jack Lewis lost to Young Burnay in a vicious mix-up, when Burnay showed loss of aggressiveness.

Welcome Roberts

Dude Martinez spent most of the first and second rounds of his fight with Hank Gattson on the canvas, taking the count of nine on five occasions during the first half of the battle. He came back strong in the last two rounds and had Gattson on the verge of dreamland, but was too exhausted to put over the sleep-producer. Hank was given the decision. Knute Rockne got a technical knockout over Joe Pimental at the start of the third round. The fracas between Benny Pascal and Young Danny in the opening spot was stopped in the second to save Pascal a lot of needless punishment.

Theodore Roberts, the grand old man of the movies, made his grand entrance in a wheel chair before the show started and was roundly welcomed by the fans. Roberts took his place near the ringside and enjoyed the show throughout. Knute Rockne, famous coach of Notre Dame, was introduced with a gold watch by the Hollywood post of the American Legion. A jammed house witnessed the seven bouts last night.

EXPECT CROWD AT GAME TOMORROW

White Sox to Play Van Nuy's In Final Game Here In Last Three Weeks

By A. S. HALL

Baseball fans of Glendale and surrounding territory will have the first opportunity to see the championship Glendale White Sox in action, after an absence of three weeks, on tomorrow afternoon, when they will play the Van Nuy's team at the San Fernando park on a winner-take-all basis. It will be homecoming day at the White Sox park, and one of the largest crowds ever present at a ball game in Glendale is expected to be on hand to greet the returning conquerors. Three more games and three more victories have been added to the long string the White Sox have piled up during the time they were absent from the city.

The Van Nuy's team played the Sox here on June 29 and went back up the valley defeated by a score of 8 to 2. Reiger was touched for ten hits by the valley lads, but kept them well scattered, while the Sox got next to Robertson, former Coast league hurler, and Waterfield, for ten hits when hits meant runs.

Robertson On Mound
Robertson will be on the mound again tomorrow, and opposing him will be Elmer Reiger, who has pitched the White Sox to a number of victories in the last few weeks. The same players of the Sox will play in their usual places. Sullivan will do the catching. Shellenbach will look after first base. Sawyer will cover second. Shields will be at third. Hiriogwen will handle things around short, and Young, Dorman and Orsatt will gather 'em in out in the gardens.

The Sox have won twenty-three consecutive victories, having played against some of the fastest semi-pro teams in southern California. Every baseball team in the valley thinks they can turn back the pale hose crew, but so far they have been unsuccessful.

Baseball managers who thought the rapid rise of the White Sox to the dizzy heights of twenty-three consecutive victories was a fluke and the ascent made by the assistance of a lot of "set-ups," have come to realize the Sox have been playing real, team-up ball.

Owners of teams in the White Sox the biggest drawing card in southern California, and many tempting offers for games are being received by Carl Sawyer, manager of the club. The General Tire club of San Diego is anxious to book the Sox for a game in the border city. Miami and Oakland are also after games, while other clubs are making bids.

BOEHLER PITCHES OAKS TO VICTORY

Allows Eight Hits, One Run, For Eighteen Innings

In L. A. Double

By BEN MCGUIRE

For Southern News Service.
LOS ANGELES, July 19.—George Boehler, shunted from the National League by the Pittsburgh Pirates to Oakland, because of his ineffectiveness, pulled the "Iron Man" stunt on the Los Angeles Angels yesterday by winning both ends of a double header, 8 to 0, and 5 to 1.

George had everything that a pitcher could have, excellent control and plenty of speed, and displayed wonderful form, and the longer he pitched the better he was. In the seventh and eighth frames of the second contest he fanned three in a row.

In the first game he held the Seraphs to three hits, and in the second affair the best the Angels could do was five hits.

George Payne started for the Angels in the opener and yielded eight hits and as many runs in six innings. Weiner, who replaced him and buried the last three innings, was in tip-top condition, only nine men facing him. Bim Meyers came in to pitch in the night cap and pitched a fairly good game, but his support was very ragged, the Angels being credited with ten errors in both games.

Seattle grabbed two games also at Salt Lake yesterday, the Angels losing 12-7 and 5-2, the latter being called in the eighth inning.

Coming from behind in the seventh inning the Seals beat Vernon, 8 to 7, in their tilt at San Francisco.

Portland held its cellar place only by losing to Sacramento, 7-6. Otherwise the Angels would have been in the hole.

Glendale Resident Is Noted For Method to Relieve Pain Druglessly

No doubt the announcement that Miss Naomi Davidson of Atlanta, Georgia, but more recently a resident on the west coast, has located in Glendale at 106-A East Broadway, room 6, will be heralded with a great degree of gratitude because of her ability to render to suffering humanity a great service by way of removing the unsightly and oftentimes very painful goiter without the aid of knife or drugs.
Miss Davidson has devoted many years of her life to the study of this malady, its cause and effect, and through this period of study has effected a system of treatment which she says is absolutely harmless and which she believes is infallible in permanently and completely removing goiters.
Many persons in Glendale and vicinity as well as in different parts of the United States are reported to have been cured through Miss Davidson's system of treatment and this information doubtless will be received with gratitude by those who are suffering from this malady.

Judge Avery Refuses To Seek Re-election

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—There is one jurist on the Los Angeles county superior bench who will not enter the warm fight for succession in view of the large number of legal lights seeking to maintain their positions or attain the coveted judicial honors.
Judge Russ Avery, who is this week hearing the Sanders case from Pasadena, emphatically stated in the public prints today that he will not make the race. Private practice calls to him after years of service for the public weal.

Grain Trading Shows Enormous Activity

CHICAGO, July 19.—Tremendous increases in the trading in grain have taken place in the last month in the various markets, according to experts in the middle west. During June, trade in all grains involved 1,443,067,000 bushels, of which 850,055,000 bushels were wheat, 426,320,000 corn, 89,435,000 oats and 75,407,000 rye. On the Chicago grain exchange the gain in volume of business in all grain futures was 66 per cent as compared with May. In Minneapolis, the increase was 125 per cent, Duluth 94 per cent, St. Louis 105, Milwaukee 78 and San Francisco 161. Employment in this state continues to decline, with about 80,000 men idle. The closing of coal mines is held responsible in part, although factories are curtailing production and farmers are using fewer men.

Sell Cotton Crop by Co-operative Methods

SHREVEPORT, La., July 19.—Cotton growers' co-operative marketing associations are preparing to handle approximately 1,500,000 bales of the 1924 crop. This compares with the sale of about 1,000,000 bales handled last year.

In the construction of the new auditorium and on account of the removal of the connecting wall of the church annex, all services will be omitted Sundays July 20 and 27.

VACANT BOXES AT POSTOFFICE FEW

Number Will Be Doubled In New Quarters; Only 30 Available Now.

For the first time in many months, there are vacant lock boxes at the postoffice, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson announced today. The demand has usually exceeded the supply, he said, but on account of a number of residents leaving the city for the summer months, some of the boxes have been released.
There are 500 lock boxes at the present location, Postmaster Jackson said, and when the new quarters in East Broadway are opened, there will be 1000 boxes. At the beginning of the present quarter, July 1, there were seventy-five vacant boxes, but today there are only thirty, Postmaster Jackson said.
The new unit of 500 additional boxes will be the same type as used now at the present location. These boxes are known as the keyless type, and are operated on a combination plan similar to safes, Postmaster Jackson said.

No Keys to Lose
"While many people prefer the key type boxes, we have found the keyless type better," Postmaster Jackson said. "In the first place, it is not necessary for the holder of a lock box to make deposits for keys, such as is necessary where key type boxes are used."

"With the key type boxes, people are constantly losing their keys, and when they ask to have the mail handed out to them, it is necessary for the man in charge to know them personally. When you question any person's identity, even for his or her own protection, their feelings are hurt, you hit their pride, and there is trouble."
"Of course, it occasionally happens that some persons forget the combination necessary to open the box assigned to them, or can't get it right, but the trouble is small compared to the difficulties arising over lost keys."

Manitoba to Adopt Liquor Control Plan

WINNIPEG, July 19.—Substitution of the total prohibition law now in effect in Saskatchewan by a liquor control system similar to that in Manitoba, was decided upon by a majority of 24,714 votes in the liquor referendum, partial completion of the investigation of the sale of liquor which has caused three deaths here in two days.

Brewery Quarantine Pending Poison Test

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 19.—Every brewery in Philadelphia was put under quarantine by police here on orders of Director Smedley Butler, and no beer will be permitted to be sent out until completion of the investigation of the sale of liquor which has caused three deaths here in two days.

No Hits—No Runs—No Errors

Reads Like the Business Records of Too Many Builders Who Build
Without Plans

If you are going to make a HIT, if you you are going to find a ready sale for your HOME, it must appear ATTRACTIVE. It must be architecturally correct in every detail.

Because you are not in the RUNNING class, you have not made the HIT. It behooves you to take account of your self and change your policy. Demand Plans and Specifications for every home you build.

No ERRORS—Then you do not build. Every successful builder insists on Plans and Specifications to eliminate the error of costly mistakes.

Our Plan Service Department has for your convenience hundreds of Beautiful Photographic Views of the Ideal Southern California Home. You may obtain these ideas which have been thought out by the foremost Architects in the Southland. Their years of experience are placed at your disposal, and we invite you to inspect our service.
